Mary Washington College

FALL 1980

TODAY

Mary Washington College

Fall 1980 Volume 6, No. 2

T O D A Y

Entering the '80s 2

Alumni, Admissions Team Up 4

Nearing Completion 6

Life After College 8

On Campus 10

Calendar 12

Alumni News 14

Classnotes 17

Photo Credits: Cover, pages 7, 11 (top right), Barry Fitzgerald; page 10, The Free Lance-Star; p. 11 (bottom), Linda Evans; pages 14, 16, Chapter photos; Inside front cover, page 12, Information Services photos.

Students. A college cannot exist without them. Our dedicated teachers, our excellent library, our modern labs, our new facilities—all would be to no avail if there were not students at Mary Washington College.

Students. Their questions, their laughter, their "preppy" clothes, their innocent expectations of life after college. Students make a college work, and, at MWC, students are forever causing the rest of us to push a little harder, to work that extra hour, to care.

Students. They bring new points of view to a campus already diverse with opinions. They come from foreign countries, from urban centers, from the country. They adapt to MWC, but also change it in many important ways.

Students. They are the focus of this issue of "MWC Today." You will read about the ways Mary Washington College is preparing for the '80s, a decade expected to be challenging to all colleges, and especially to those in Virginia. You will read about the new alumni-admissions recruitment program, designed to get many more people involved in looking for qualified students for Mary Washington. You will also read about what new things MWC is doing to make living and working at MWC better for students—from renovated facilities to a new track. And, just as important, you will read about what MWC is doing to prepare its students for life after college.

We hope you enjoy this special issue of "MWC Today." If you can volunteer to help in the alumni-admissions program, please do so; if not, think about using the cards attached to the back cover to let us know about someone you think would like to attend MWC. We care about the future of Mary Washington, and we hope you do too.

Linda Evans

Editor: Linda N. Evans

Editorial Board: The Editor, William M. Anderson, Jr., Mary B. Carson, Edward H. Hegmann II and Carlton R. Lutterbie, Jr.

Mary Washington College Today

USPS 911-760 is published quarterly by Mary Washington College for the alumni, friends and faculty of the College. Second class postage paid at Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401 and additional mailing offices.

Mary Washington College Alumni Association Roster of the Board of Directors 1980-81

Ann Perinchief Palamar '67, President; Doris Lindsey Buschman '53. President-Elect; Miriam Whitley Knight '48, Vice President for the Annual Fund; Sharon Lee Richmond '73, Vice President for Homecoming; Betty Carrier Church '46, Vice President for Chapters; Virginia Poole Kinniburgh '53, Vice President for Classes; Karen Peters Zirkle '74, Chairman, Student-Alumni Relations; Ellen Alvey Montllor '48, Chairman, Distinguished Alumnus Award; Mark S. Ingrao '81, Senior Representative; Barbara Jean Post '78, Chairman, Student Recruitment; Anne Price Fortney '66, Chairman, Extended Education; Marguerite Dressler '38, Chairman, Projects and Travel; Irene Lundy Brown '39, Chairman, Government Relations; Ronda Ellis Smith '64, Chairman, Nominations to Board of Visitors; Kinsey Bass Green '60, Chairman, Budget and Finance; Samuel T. Emory, Jr., Faculty Representative and Parliamentarian; Mary B. Carson '71, Director of Alumni Affairs; Price B. Woodard, President, Mary Washington College.

Mary Washington College does not discriminate against students or employees on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, political affiliation, sex, marital status, or age.

Entering the '80s

The following excerpts are from President Woodard's address to the College faculty August 22, 1980. The passages offer a look at the state of the College as it enters the decade of the '80s.

Welcome to Mary Washington College—1980-81. It is good to see all of you as we begin the decade of the '80s at MWC. To you, the returning faculty, let me say it is nice to have you back on campus—you have been missed these past several weeks. To those of you now joining the MWC professional family, I thank you for making the decision to become a part of MWC and I congratulate you on your wisdom. All of us who have preceded you to this campus wish to be of every possible assistance in your orientation and adjustment to the College and to Fredericksburg.

To those of you who served Mary Washington in previous years and to each of you beginning service with the College, I pledge my best efforts, my energy and my full commitment to the continuing promotion of Mary Washington as a high-quality college of the liberal arts and sciences and to the promotion of the professional and personal welfare of you, the MWC faculty.

I am convinced that as we apply our collective talents to the significant challenges which await us in 1980-81, giant strides of progress will be realized for Mary Washington College, and, in turn, for you, its faculty.

I am pleased to present six long-range goals which I am convinced must be realized by Mary Washington over the next six years—1980-86. These goals overlap in their scope and interrelate in a variety of ways. This is as it should be.

Planned Enrollment Growth

This is an absolute must for MWC. I refer to a modest growth in enrollment to about 2,800, with a corresponding increase in FTE (full-time equivalent) students to about 2,400.

This growth is needed to insure upward mobility of current faculty, to provide limited infusion of new faculty, to serve more citizens in the surrounding region, to increase the utilization of facilities, to remain financially viable in relation to new state staffing and funding ratios and to maintain an effective and influential role within the state system of higher education.

As we consider the goal of enrollment growth, we must be realistic and accept these facts:

—high school graduates in Virginia have peaked—will drop 20 per cent during the period;

—high school graduates will drop even greater in other states;

—each institution will increase its student recruitment efforts and techniques;

—additional dormitories will be built on Virginia campuses in areas from which we attract a large segment of our enrollment;

—students are dropping in and out of college more frequently than before;

—the nation is being saturated with propaganda that a four-year college is often a wasted investment of time and money.

The only way we will achieve our enrollment growth goal is for each faculty member to become an effective recruiter. The same role must be played by administrators, MWC students and our alumni.

Further, the College must greatly increase its retention of students. We must also take advantage of our location and encourage the rapidly growing local population to attend MWC by scheduling a variety of classes at the convenience of the working adult clientele.

College-wide Resource Conservation Program

While additional state support for the College must be attained, Mary Washington must scrutinize its operation more carefully and obtain a greater return on the dollars it spends. A focus on conservation must be developed that will provide greater protection to the supplies, equipment and facilities of the College. Wasteful habits which cut across the entire College community must be changed. MWC simply must preserve what it has.

Continuous Review of Academic Offerings and Promotion of Public Service Activities

For the immediate years ahead, the College has the challenge to implement fully the new degree programs started last year and those beginning this year and to bring on line the MBA and MPA programs in 1982 and 1983. This must not mean, however, that the structure of existing majors should remain static. Both the content and delivery systems of current programs require continuous revision. Just as new content must be added in order that students may develop a proper understanding of a discipline, so must the outdated and the less important be discarded to avoid the creation of unrealistic demands on the students and the College.

Mary Washington has been a late entry into the public service field. To meet its obligations to the surrounding community and to the Commonwealth, it must expand its offerings and its sponsorship of a wide range of non-credit public service offerings (lectures, workshops, seminars, conferences, symposia, short courses, etc.). Through an effective public service program, the College can establish valuable relations with the business and industrial community, and, in turn, profit from their support.

Development of a Uniqueness Recognized Statewide and Nationally

Mary Washington is a unique institution when viewed in the context of the Virginia higher education system. We attempt to maximize this in our recruitment efforts when we stress that MWC is the state's only "small, predominantly residential, coeducational, undergraduate college of the arts and sciences." This is true. We are proud of it. However, this classification does not separate us from a number of private colleges in the East (except, of course, the state classification). Nor does it establish a uniqueness which allows us to say we have something no other college has. What MWC needs is at least one feature that is totally unique, a feature that can become a recognition symbol both statewide and nationwide.

I am convinced we now have one such element with the establishment of the MWC Center for Historic Preservation. Over the next six years, this center should be developed in a manner to put MWC in the national limelight. In turn, every facet of the College will benefit.

Realization of an Expanded State Financial Support Base and Additional Faculty Benefits and Development Opportunities

The essential ingredient of this goal is more money. Clearly, a larger, more diverse, more effective lobbying effort to create a public support base for MWC must be achieved. Realization of this goal is very much intertwined with the enthusiasm, commitment, loyalty, esprit de corps—call it what you will—of all MWC related parties—students, faculty, administration, classified employees, Board of Visitors, alumni, parents of MWC students, the governing bodies of Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania and Stafford, and the area business community.

Accompanying an improved level of support from the Commonwealth must be growth in private giving to the College. The Annual Fund now incorporates solicitation of alumni, faculty and administration, students, MWC parents, the corporate sector and the local business community. As the revenue from these sources increases, so will the ability of the College to provide certain fringe benefits and services to the faculty.

Development of a Productive Public Relations and College Publicity Program

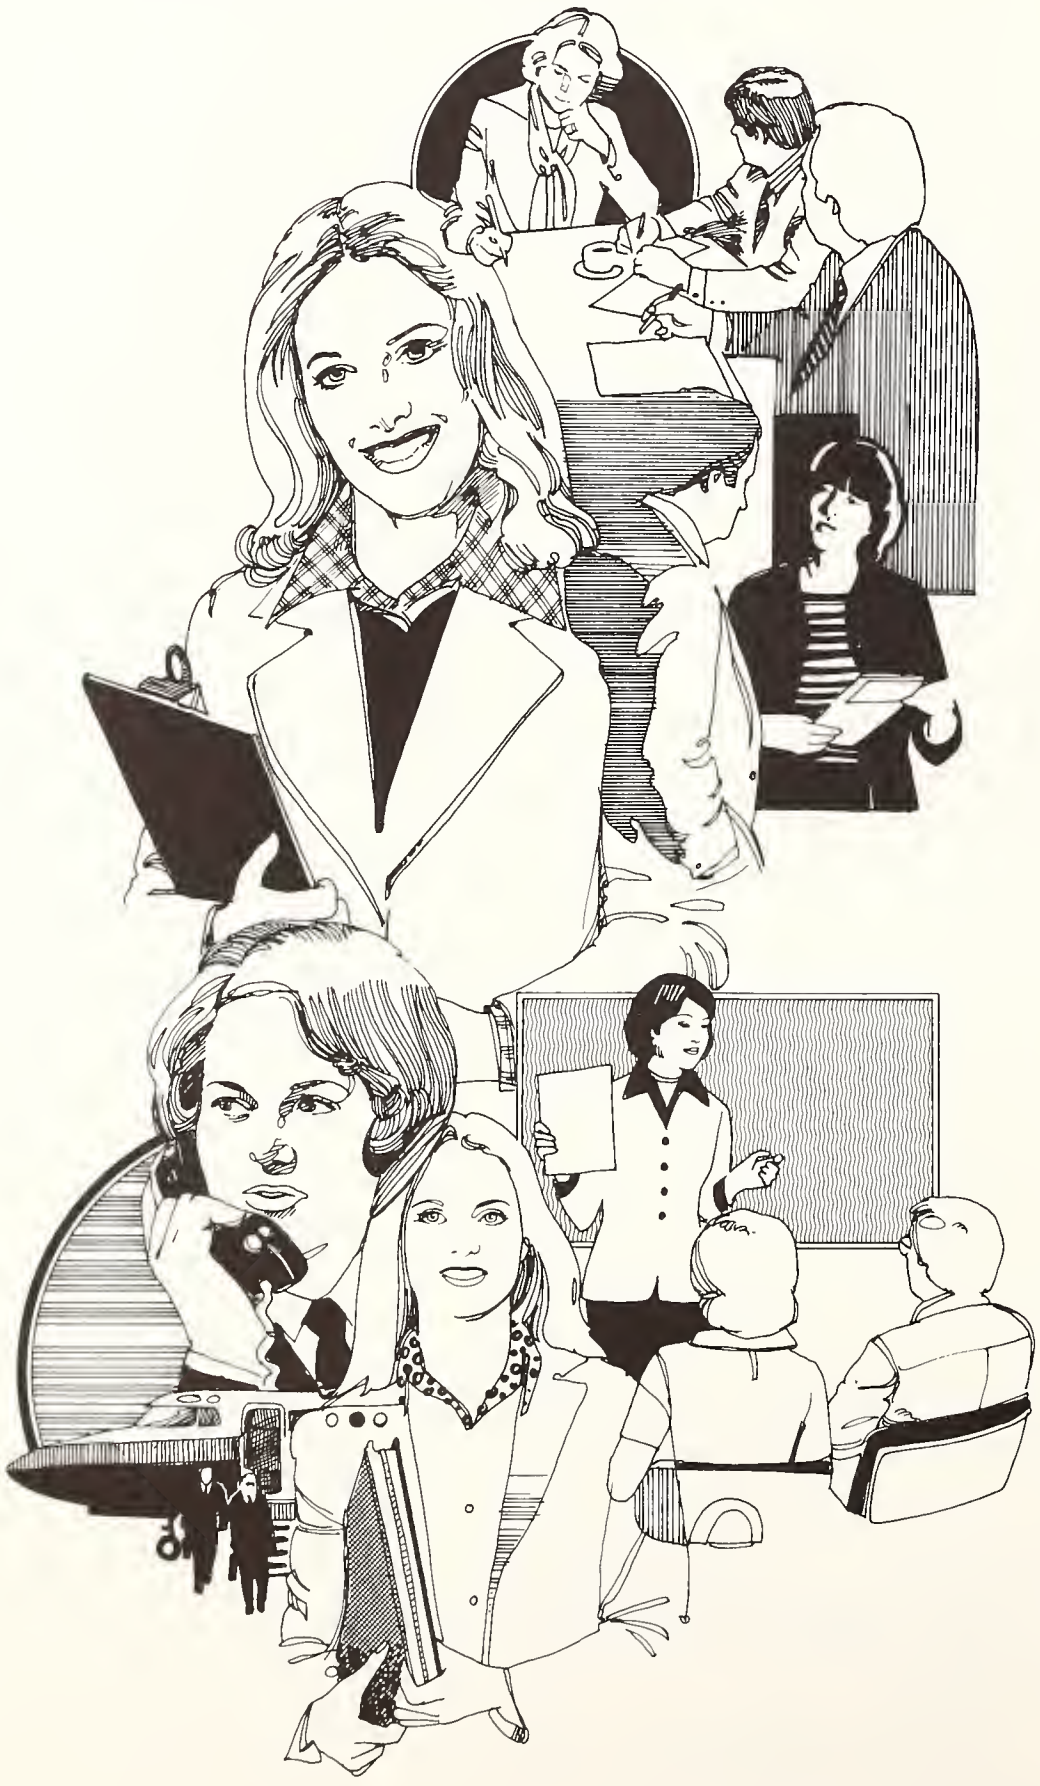
As I indicated at the beginning of my remarks, the several goals which are identified for 1980-86 are not totally isolated from one another. Especially is this true of this final six-year goal I wish to offer. Every talent and resource available to the College must be utilized to produce the most effective, comprehensive and positive public relations/publicity program possible for MWC. The program I envision would have MWC personnel—faculty, students, administrators—on the speaker's platform of a wide array of organizations. It would, for the citizens of Virginia and the East Coast region, answer the question, "Who is Mary Washington?," before it is asked.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

As I end my remarks on "The State of the College-Future" I ask you to join with me this day in a rededication of our talents, skills, energies and personal commitment to MWC. Let us look back a year from now and say of 1980-81, it was Mary Washington's finest, because we made it so.

Alumni, Admissions Team Up

"New recruitment strategies must be developed, new ground cultivated and, indeed, Mary Washington must seek the qualified student wherever he or she may be found."—President Woodard in his 1980 address to the faculty



Mary Washington College has entered the decade of the '80s with vigor. Its position is good—enrollment was up 5.9 per cent this year (to 2,612), and, in every category of student, gains were recorded. New degree programs are attracting a wider variety of student; in fact, part-time student population rose by .4 per cent this fall. More men and minorities are enrolling at MWC, and SAT scores and academic records of entering freshmen remain very strong.

College officials point to the new Master's in Liberal Studies, the Bachelor of Liberal Studies, the new major programs in business administration, public administration, computer science, and historic preservation, as contributing to the College's growth during the past few years. Students are flocking to the academic internship program, where they combine their classroom theory with on-the-job experience.

Still, Mary Washington College cannot sit back and become complacent about its recent gains. Reality is closing in and all colleges, public and private, will be competing more than ever before for the qualified student in the 1980s. In looking toward a modest growth in enrollment at MWC, President Woodard stated this fall that growth will "insure upward mobility of faculty, provide limited infusion of new faculty, serve more of the local population, increase facilities utilization, help the College remain financially viable in relation to new state staffing and funding ratios, and maintain an effective and influential role within the state system of higher education."

More than in any other decade, all colleges must reach out to the potential student. Recruitment can no longer be the sole responsibility of the Office of Admissions. With the number of high school graduates expected to drop 20 per cent in the next six years, MWC must find more effective ways to attract the most qualified students, while maintaining its high standards of academic excellence and retaining its smallness.

To this end, the MWC Alumni Association has formed the Alumni-Admissions Recruitment Committee, whose job it will be to assist the Office of Admissions in seeking out and enrolling qualified students.

This committee, headed by Barbara Post '78 of Virginia Beach, is organized into geographic areas, with regional coordinators providing materials and leadership for recruitment efforts in each location. This fall the nine area coordinators returned to the MWC campus for intensive training and for a briefing session on new College programs and facilities. In the coming year, these trained volunteers will be calling on high school guidance counselors, contacting students who have applied to the College, and taking the speaker's platform at college night sessions at their local secondary schools.

Their specific projects include such planned activities as:

—delivering catalogs to local secondary school guidance counselors, discussing with them programs at MWC, and presenting them with an autographed print from the collection of Bulent Atalay, MWC professor of physics;

—planning a dinner for local secondary school counselors at which a representative of MWC will speak;

—attending and speaking at local college night programs, either alone or with a member of the MWC admissions staff;

—arranging a car caravan or bus trip for high school students to visit MWC;

—sending lists of prospective students to the Admissions Office;

—contacting local students who have applied to MWC or who have been offered admission, and extending a personal welcome;

—hosting a small reception for students who have been offered admission to MWC and who plan to attend.

Enthusiastic about the new program, Committee Chairman Barbara Post called the venture "a great way to keep up with changes and innovations at the College. I am learning things about MWC that are completely and totally new to me."

Seeing the experience as a way to keep alumni involved with the Regional Scholarship Program and with new students in general, Miss Post wants the recruitment program to serve as a way to attract new graduates to the alumni association. "This is an excellent chance to participate," she added.

After leading an intensive, two-day workshop for area coordinators, Dean of Admissions H. Conrad Warlick described their enthusiasm for the project as complementary to his. "This is a program that Mary Carson (director of alumni affairs) and I have been planning for more than a year. It is exhilarating to see this joint effort begin."

So often, he said, people feel their efforts are made to no avail. With this project, alumni have an opportunity "to do something that really will have an impact on Mary Washington. This activity will make a difference."

Obviously the work of this vital committee cannot be done entirely by the nine key people who have offered to serve as coordinators. Each will need help from a dedicated and hard-working local committee as well as from the local alumni chapters. While some of these activities require interest and ability in public speaking, others merely require an interest in MWC and in its future. If you would like to work on a committee in your area, please contact the alumni office or the committee chairman. Names of the area coordinators are:

Richmond: Laurel Koenig '70

Baltimore: Judith Henley Beck '68

Virginia Beach: Elizabeth Warner Faust '78

Fredericksburg, Stafford, Spotsylvania, Culpeper and King George: Bobbi Crisp '65

Roanoke and Salem: Adele Giles '37

Williamsburg, Newport News, Hampton: Patti Jo Anderson '77

Emporia, Suffolk, Franklin: Reba Collier Thorpe '33

Fairfax: Virginia Shearin '64

Long Island, N.Y.: Phyllis Melillo Shanahan '55

(Note: Area Coordinators are needed from the west coast of Florida, South Florida and Connecticut. Contact Barbara Post at 1330 Pinecone Circle, Virginia Beach, Va. 23456 if you are interested in serving in this capacity, or on any local committee.)

'Nearing Completion'— Athletic Catch Phrase

by Terry Bonner
Sports Information Director

In the fall of 1980, "nearing completion" is the catch phrase in the Mary Washington College athletic department. Where once were the rolling hills and dales of a rambling golf course, in early 1981 will be a modern athletic complex. A track, golf putting green, approach and driving areas, and a locker and shower room facility in the remodeled physical plant are nearing completion and will soon combine with the 10 lighted tennis courts, soccer field and cross country layout already in use on the six-acre Hanover Street plot for an area of diversity and multiple use.

With the completion of the athletic parcel, Mary Washington College steps into a new phase of athletic commitment. Its indoor facility, Goolrick Hall, has long rivaled any small college facility in Virginia with its effective consolidation of multi-use areas and specific sports needs in one building, suiting both varsity, class and intramural activity.

In the spring of 1981, MWC's outdoor development will similarly stand favorably with any other statewide. In addition, the wise land use, involving the leveling of all possible areas, allows for the continued growth of the athletic department, according to Athletic Director and project originator Edward H. Hegmann II. Each area will be flexible in order to allow new sports to spring up at Mary Washington, and the abundance of level space permits the rotation of field use to preserve the life and beauty of each and every field, Hegmann said. As a result, more intramural and varsity sports may be added in the very near future.

The lower fields of Goolrick, traditionally the playing grounds of Blue Tide athletes, have not been neglected in the development. The area is set for a regrading, leveling and drainage system renovation to make it another multi-dimensional sports field.

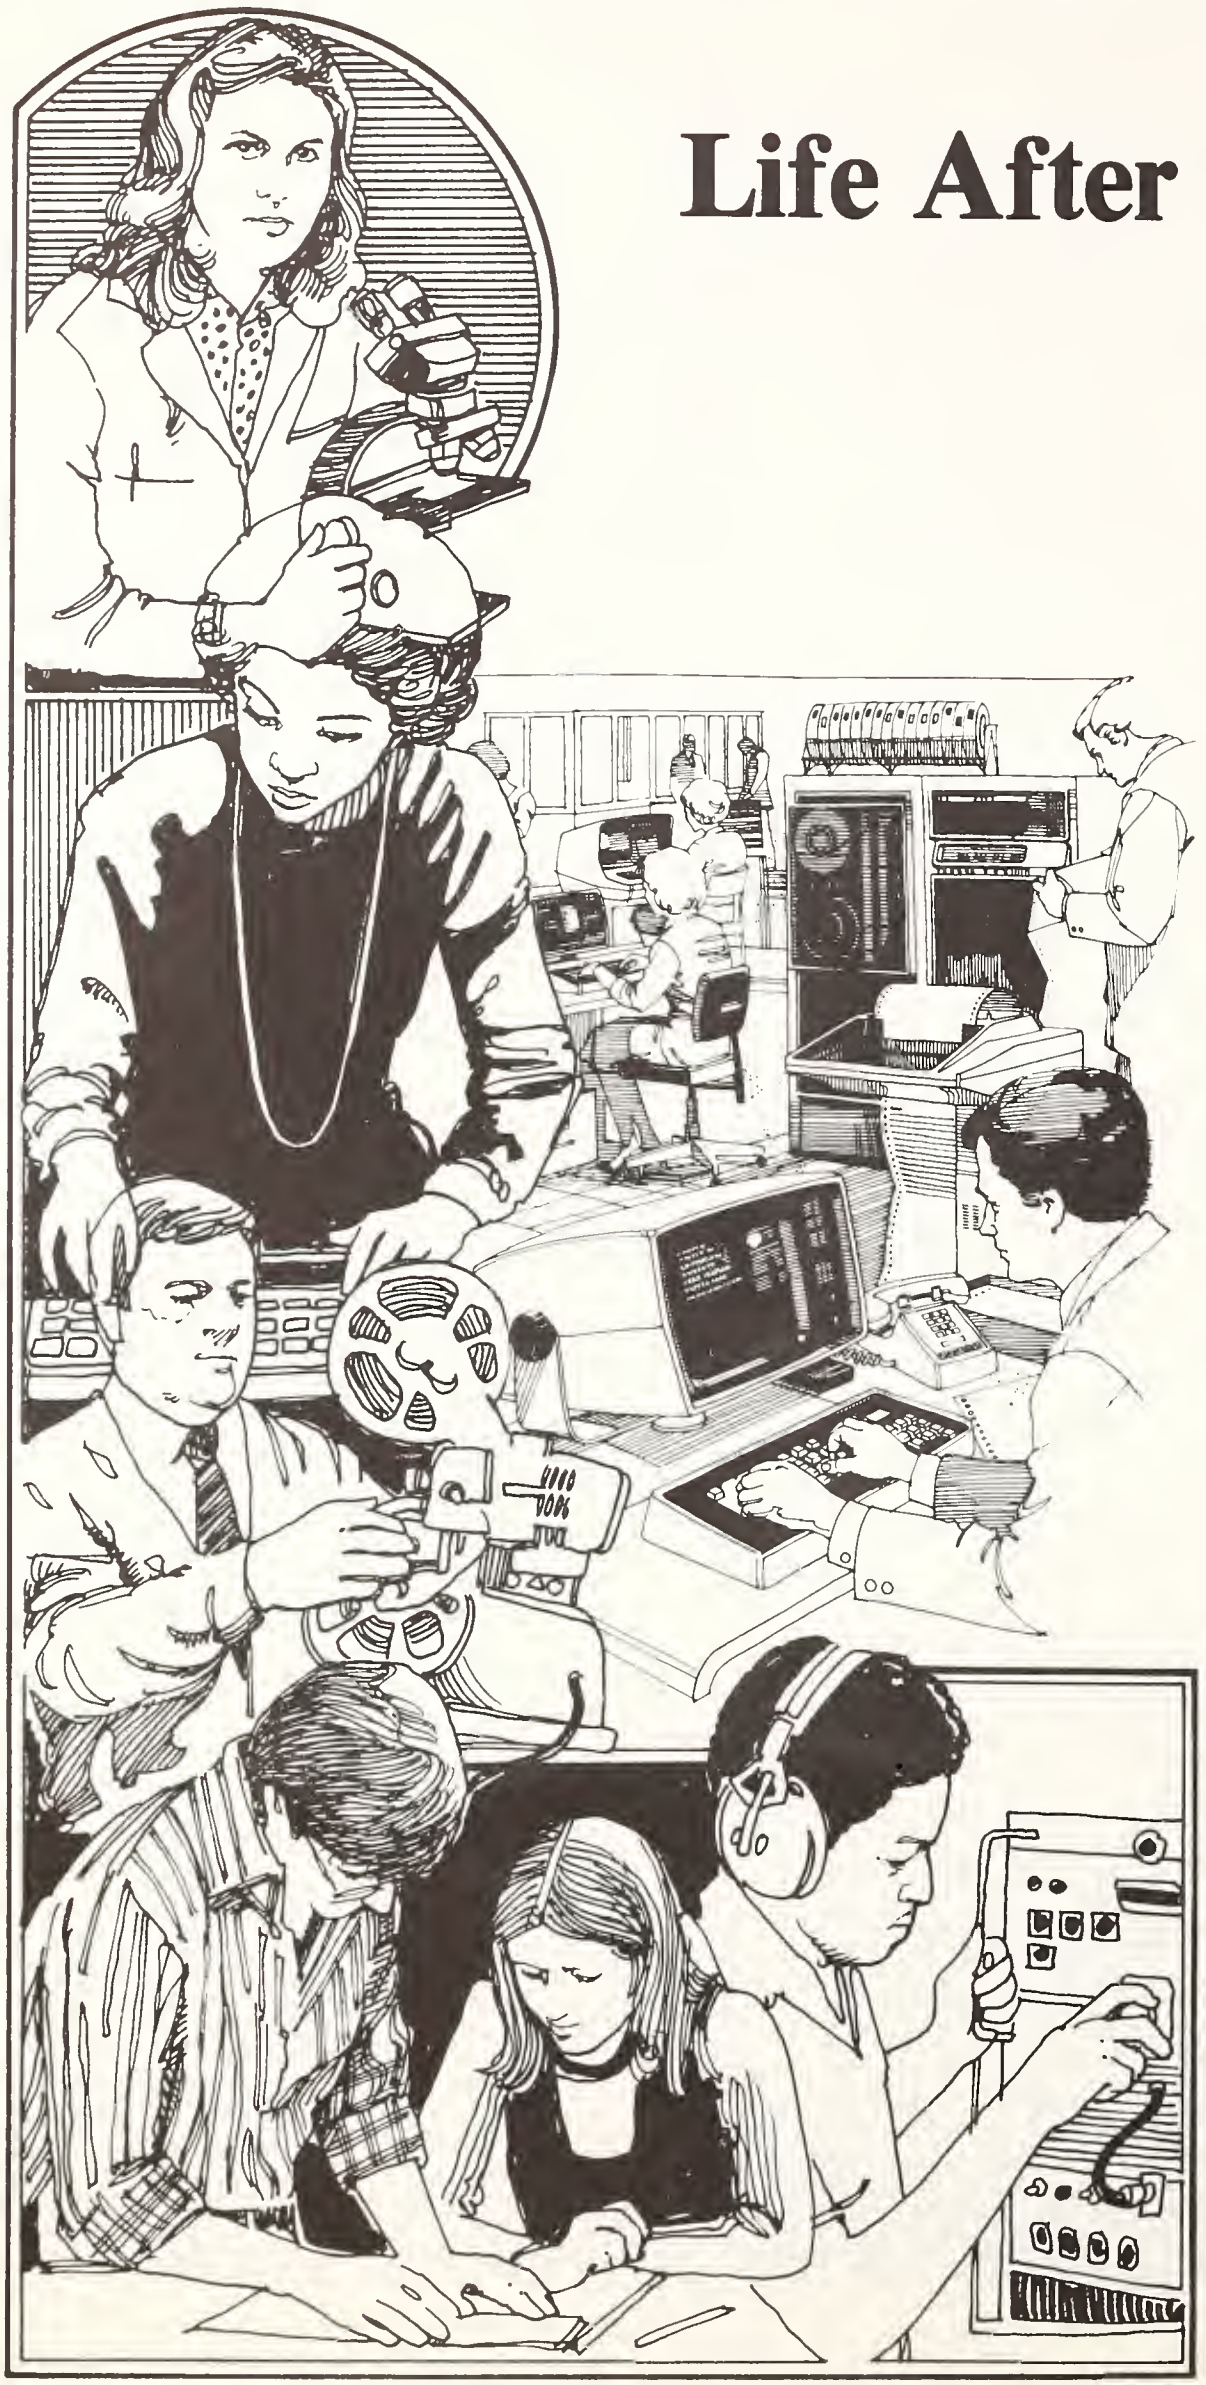
Thus, in 1981, when the athletic program stretches to 16 sports with the addition of men's and women's track and field, it will do so in style. The track, cinder covered now, will be laid out with Rubiturf when the spring temperatures allow its installation. Rubiturf, currently in use at Princeton and Rutgers and recently installed at the College of William and Mary, is an all-weather surface composed of recycled automobile tires held together with latex, explained Hegmann. Inside the eight-lane track's oval will be the field event area, which will include the necessary sand pits for jumping events and a water hazard for the steeplechase course.

The renovation of one wing of the physical plant building is also scheduled for completion in the spring of 1981. Included in that portion of the project are MWC's and visitors' locker and shower rooms, plus coaches', faculty and officials' shower and locker areas. A training room and spectators' rest room are also in the blueprint.

The 250-yard driving range and 10,000-square-foot putting green complete the overall picture. The green will be a "first class" one, according to Hegmann. It will feature pop-up sprinklers and an underground drainage system over its crushed stone base, said the athletic director.

Not only does the completion of the fine outdoor complex bring new prestige to MWC as a whole, but it adds another attraction for prospective students and provides the best possible facilities for those students already residing in Fredericksburg, believes the fifth-year athletic department chairman. Thus, "nearing completion" is Mary Washington College's commitment to athletic excellence.

The Battleground athletic complex, with track, nearing completion.



Life After College

By
Ronald B. Head
Assistant Dean for Career Services and
William Kemp
Associate Professor of English

Over the last 50 years, the American economy—and particularly the network of occupational slots which makes that economy operate—has changed very quickly, and it is likely to continue changing at a rapid pace in the forseeable future. In almost any occupation imaginable, people will need considerable flexibility to enjoy the sort of job security which was taken for granted just a few decades ago.

Consider, for example, the plight of nearly 100,000 highly trained aerospace engineers who suddenly found themselves without jobs in the early 1970's. Trained to perform highly specialized tasks which were no longer needed, many of these people stayed out of work for at least a year. The ones who came out best, of course, were those who were able to find new work outside their narrow specialities. The moral to the story, then, is that to survive and flourish in an economy as complex and changeable as ours, a person is better off with an array of basic abilities than with a narrow spectrum of highly specialized skills.

Even if you didn't have to worry about occupational disaster (and entire industries have disappeared overnight due to changes in public policy or inventions which radically alter existing technology), you would be better off with a broad range of fundamental capabilities than with a narrow, highly technical skill. Certainly, highly technical skills are instrumental in securing that all-important first job. But the typical college graduate stays in an "entry-level job" only two years, and the typical worker will change jobs 8-12 times, and careers 3-5 times, during his or her working life. So, even if you stay with one organization or within one career field all your life (and few people do), you are likely to advance from your first job into ones demanding far wider capabilities. Salespersons become managers, reporters become editors, teachers become principals and engineers become administrators. Thus, even if you need specific technical skills to get the entry-level job of your choice, you will need broader, liberal skills to advance beyond the entry-level.

It is true that highly specialized college programs, such as engineering, provide high starting salaries and little competition in securing first jobs. It is also true that advancement beyond these first jobs is fairly slow and salary increases tend to be modest. A beginning engineer with a typical corporation will start out at $20,000 per year, while the liberal arts graduate with that same corporation will begin at $12,000. After 10 years, however, the engineer is still an engineer, and making, say, $30,000 per year, while the liberal arts graduate is the engineer's supervisor, taking home $40-$50,000.

Sound too good to be true? Well, consider that most organizations need two things from their total mix of employees: (1) various technical skills (the specific ones depend upon what the organization is engaged in), and (2) subtle abilities of judgment and analysis to make certain that technical skills are being used productively.

The employee who offers only technical skills will be asked to perform the same tasks over and over again until the organization no longer requires those skills or until it is time to retire. And since such skills tend to be involved with technology, which changes rapidly, the chances are that the employee's working life will last longer than the productivity of his or her technical skills. But the employee whose value lies in his or her judgment and analytic abilities will be able to adapt to almost any organizational transformation. In fact, that employee will often be able to influence the direction of the organizational change.

For these reasons, the single most significant piece of advice we can give at Mary Washington is: to get a promising first job, you will probably need SPECIFIC SKILLS; to keep a meaningful career, you will undoubtedly need LIBERAL ABILITIES.

So what are these "liberal skills?" What does this magic "broad array of basic abilities" actually consist of? Well, for one thing, they're all intangible and almost all mental. For another, they are generally thought of as "higher level skills." Job-training programs do not supply you with these types of abilities. Nor does a narrow, vocational education. We believe the best place to acquire the liberal skills is at a liberal arts college, such as Mary Washington.

In essence, the guts of a liberal education consists of: (1) the ability to comprehend complex ideas on your own (largely a matter of reading and listening well); (2) the ability to manipulate the complex ideas you have comprehended, and on your own, to think through their consequences; and (3) the ability to communicate both original ideas and your analyses of them to other people (a matter of speaking and writing clearly).

What we are talking about, in short, is the ability to use your mind. Not just memory—computers can be programmed for that. Nor just a beautiful writing style or an effective platform speaking manner (though these can be real assets, few employers want people whose only contribution is a certain charm in presenting the hard mental work others have done).

In most cases, the desirable employee is the person who can do it all—the learning, the thinking and the presenting. He or she is the person who can figure out what kinds of information and ideas are needed, find that information and those ideas, evaluate both the sources and the material itself, figure out precisely how the new information and ideas interact with the problems at hand, grasp new problems as they arise in the process of solving old ones and sense the relationships, advantages and disadvantages of possible solutions as they present themselves. These powers, combined with a careful selection of technical skills, provide the flexibility needed for true job security. They also provide the capabilities needed to build a career out of a job.

The traditional liberal arts education offered at Mary Washington is constructed to make exactly this kind of career preparation possible. It consists of three components: basic requirements, a major and electives. The first two make up about half the degree; the electives make up the other half.

Basic requirements are just that—those skills of computation and expression essential to even marginal success in modern life. The major and electives go beyond this and provide those skills essential for a meaningful life, not just marginal success. By majoring in a subject, the student learns how to learn a lot about one thing; by taking electives, he or she learns how to learn a little about a lot of things. The major, in other words, provides depth, forcing a students to realize how complex even a portion of reality is, while electives provide breadth, allowing that student to create certain skills clusters which will help secure that all-important first job.

A liberal education, in other words, provides the best of both worlds. A student acquires the specific skills to get inside the door of an agency and the general abilities to advance once inside. Mary Washington College offers an education which provides for meaningful life after graduation.

On Campus

Pool Room provides an added dimension to student activities

Renovations Provide Class, Living and Rec Space

Renovations to the two oldest buildings on campus—Monroe Hall and Willard Hall—greeted students as they arrived back to campus this fall.

Monroe, finished in late spring, was left with an exterior basically unchanged, except for general cleaning and new paint. Inside, the spacious hallways with murals painted in the early 1940s are still a main feature of the building. New, however, are the arrangement of classrooms and office space and a basement-level, 200-seat lecture room. Built in space once occupied by a gymnasium, the lecture room is equipped with modern film projection features and closed circuit television. The entire lower level is designed for both College and community use, with large conference rooms and a reception room near the lecture area.

The ground floor and top floor house classrooms for the departments of economics, business and public affairs; education; history and American studies; and anthropology, geography and sociology.

Faculty offices are arranged in suites to provide space for departmental secretaries and individual offices for each faculty member.

Also housed on the top floor is the new cartography laboratory, complete with darkroom.

Built in 1908, Monroe Hall was the first academic building on campus, and as one way of maintaining tradition, the original brass lockplates, bearing the initials FNS (for Fredericksburg Normal School) were left on the interior doors.

The renovation of Willard Hall, the oldest residence hall on campus, was completed just in time for students to move in on Aug. 24. The air-conditioned facility is housing 183 upperclass students, and features such niceties as kitchenettes on the two upper floors. Student rooms are arranged in units of five or six rooms, with new bathrooms and display areas for posters and announcements featured in each unit.

Opened briefly before the end of last semester, the Pool Room, located below the terrace of Ann Carter Lee Hall, offers students a new area for parties and meetings. Located on the site of a former swimming pool, the renovation put a new twist to the name by featuring a vinyl inlay of a pool table on the floor. The refreshment area was constructed to resemble the pool ball rack. Already the room has been used for the students' leadership conference, class meetings and parties.

Richard L. Miller

New VP Selected

Richard L. Miller of Silver Spring, Maryland, has assumed the new position of Vice President for Fiscal Affairs at Mary Washington College. Miller, 36, who was budget director of Prince George's Community College, has served previously as a budget analyst at the University of Maryland and the National Institute of Health.

In announcing his selection, President Woodard said the college was fortunate to obtain an experienced financial administrator for the major cabinet position. Miller, he said, "comes highly recommended and brings a background of more than 10 years of experience in financial planning and management, the last seven years in a college with more than 15,000 students and a budget more than double that of Mary Washington."

Miller holds BS and MBA degrees from American University and is a member of the Southern Association of College and University Business Officers.

When the comptroller's position at the college became vacant with the resignation of Edward V. Allison, Jr., the responsibilities assigned to the position were redefined and the title changed to Vice President for Fiscal Affairs. Miller began his new job Aug. 4.

Gov. Dalton slices first piece of cake at Brompton ceremonies; President Woodard and Mrs. Dalton watch.

8th Gov.'s School Closes Successfully

A birthday cake for the governor, a dinner on the lawn of Brompton, a lot of congratulations and many happy faces marked the closing of the eighth session of the Governor's School for the Gifted at MWC.

Gov. John N. Dalton spoke at the closing ceremonies, attended by 139 talented high school students, their families and special guests, and, before the evening was over, he became the honored recipient of a huge birthday cake. The occasion was not only the end of a four-week learning experience for the students, but also the governor's 49th birthday.

The 500 guests rose and sang a chorus of "Happy Birthday" to Gov. Dalton, who cut the cake and shared it with them all.

The Governor's School, funded with $310,000 from the state, provides an intensive summer session of college level courses, field trips and distinguished guests for 420 students selected to attend one of the three programs at MWC, Mary Baldwin College and Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

The school's philosophy is to provide academically challenging situations to students who often lack these experiences in their local public or private schools.

Just for Kicks!

Of the many summertime activities held on the MWC campus, one favorite with the younger set was the soccer camp, held in two one-week sessions by soccer coach Roy Gordon. Approximately 120 boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 14 practiced the kicks, hitting, ball control, and offensive and defensive tactics that make up the fundamentals of soccer. The campus hosted many other visitors during the summer, including drill teams, preservationists, parents of incoming freshmen, square dancers, an Upward Bound program and a beauty pageant. The College plans to increase its services to the community, and, for major overnight events, it requests that bookings be made well in advance through the Office of Continuing Education and Summer Programs.

Soccer Camp fundamentals—faking your opponent

DRAMA & DANCE

A Streetcar Named Desire by Tennessee Williams, directed by Roger Kenvin, Klein Theatre, 8:15 p.m Oct. 22-26.
MWC Dance Company in concert, George Washington Hall auditorium, 8 p.m. Nov. 1,2.
Vanities, directed by Michael Joyce, Klein Theatre, 8:15 p.m., Nov. 19-23.
The Fairy-Tale Complex, a children's play directed by Robert Burner Kerns, 7:30 p.m., Klein Theatre, Feb. 18-22.
Three One-Act Plays, directed by students Tim Erickson, Steve Greene and Roger Prine, Klein Theatre, 8:15 p.m. March 13, 14.
The Canterbury Tales, a musical version of the Chaucer classic, directed by Michael Joyce, Klein Theatre, 8:15 p.m., April 8-12.
(Call Klein Theatre Box Office for tickets: 703/899-4330)

MUSIC

MWC Chorus Concert, George Washington Hall auditorium, 4 p.m., Nov. 16.
College-Community Symphony Orchestra Pops Concert, George Washington Hall auditorium, 8 p.m., Dec. 5.
Fredericksburg Singers, mid December (TBA).
College-Community Symphony Orchestra Concert, George Washington Hall auditorium, 8:15 p.m., March 20.
Virginia Opera, George Washington Hall auditorium, 8 p.m., March 23.
MWC Chorus Concert, George Washington Hall auditorium, 4 p.m., April 19.
College-Community Symphony Orchestra Concert, George Washington Hall auditorium, 8:15 p.m., April 21.

ART

Continuing through the fall semester: Student shows in Melchers 153.
November—One man show by John Lamph, duPont Galleries.
Mid-March—Student Lithography Show and demonstration of new lithopress (dates TBA).
April 9—Opening of two-week Student Art Show, duPont Galleries.
Continuing during spring semester—Senior studio art majors' shows, Melchers 153.

ETC.

Black Culture Week, February 8-15.
Chi Beta Phi auction, February 24.
Alumni Homecoming, April 10-11.
Commencement, May 9.

LECTURES

"The Making of the Presidency—The Man and the Office from Washington to Carter" is a series of public lectures offered by the MWC Department of History and American Studies. Each of the lectures, which began in September, examines a specific administration that was especially significant in shaping the office as it evolved from its inception to its present status. The lectures analyze the particular president's personality, character and political philosophy; evaluate his performance in the White House; and assess his impact, for good or ill, upon the institution itself. The concluding lecture will consist of an analysis of the 1980 election by the distinguished nationally-syndicated political columnist, Robert Novak. All lectures take place at 7 p.m. in the new lecture room, room 104, of Monroe Hall. They are open to the public free of charge.

Oct. 28—"Woodrow Wilson—The Presidential Moralist," by Dr. William B. Crawley, Jr., associate professor of history, MWC.

Nov. 11—"Franklin D. Roosevelt—The Expansive Presidency," by Dr. Lewis P. Fickett, professor of political science, MWC.

Nov. 18—"Lyndon Johnson—The Personalized Presidency," by Dr. William B. Crawley, Jr., associate professor of history, MWC.

Nov. 25—"Richard Nixon—The Failure of the Presidency," by Dr. Joseph C. Vance, professor of history, MWC.

Dec. 2—"The 1980 Election—An Analysis," by Robert Novak, syndicated columnist, Washington, D.C.

Saturday Seminar Nov. 1, 1980

SATURDAY SEMINAR
MWC Alumni Association
P. O. Box 1315
Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401

* The Alumni Association of Mary Washington College is sponsoring the second in its series of Saturday Seminars.

* Saturday Seminars are open to alumni, their family and friends, friends of the college, and others who are interested in coming to campus during the day to hear three lectures of current popular interest.

* Nine lectures are being offered to refresh your mind with mental stimulation, physical motivation, friendship and opportunities for discussion with noted scholars and specialists.

* Choose three of the nine lectures offered. The cost is only $15.00 which includes coffee and donuts, lunch, afternoon reception, and admittance to the evening Dance Concert.

SESSION I

	8:30 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.	Registration – foyer Monroe Hall.
A	9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.	Informal discussion over coffee & donuts. Lecture on Dance at MWC–Past, Present, & Future. Lectures by Claudia Read, Professor Emeritus of Health, Physical Education and Recreation; Sonja Dragomanovic Haydar, Associate Professor of Dance; and Jean C. Graham, Instructor of Dance.
B	10:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.	MASTER CLASS – Choice of Ballet or Modern. Conducted by Ms. Haydar, Ms. Graham and Ms. Ginsburg.
	12:30 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.	Luncheon – Seacobeck Dining Hall – Green Room
C	2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.	Lecture – Specialized topics of interest: Business Approach to running a dance studio, careers in dance, creative movement for children, dance therapy for the handicapped, etc.
	3:15 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.	MASTER CLASS – Choice of Ballet or Modern.
	4:30 p.m. – 6:00 p.m.	Reception in Anne Fairfax Alumni House
	8:00 p.m.	Mary Washington College Dance Company Concert – George Washington Hall

SESSION II

	8:30 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.	Registration – foyer Monroe Hall (Coffee & donuts will be served)
D	9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.	Background of the Presidency – Dr. Vance will discuss the presidency with an emphasis on George Washington including precedents set by Washington and his predecessors.
E	10:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.	Political Campaigns . . . Fact or Fiction? – Phyllis Brotman will present an overview of political campaigns as they affect the candidates and the voters. Do campaign managers and political consultants play a significant role in determining the voters reaction? Is the voter significantly prepared going to the poles? Or is it all a waste of time and money?
	12:30 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.	Luncheon – Seacobeck Dining Hall – Green Room
F	2:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.	White House Parties . . . Political and Otherwise – Catherine Wegner will lecture on protocol, food, anecdotes, social implications, and holiday meal demonstrations based on authentic White House dishes from Washington to Carter.
	4:30 p.m. – 6:00 p.m.	Reception at Anne Fairfax Alumni House
	8:00 p.m.	Mary Washington College Dance Company Concert – George Washington Hall

SESSION III

	8:30 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.	Registration – foyer Monroe Hall (Coffee & donuts will be served.)
G	9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.	Historic Preservation . . .Who Needs It? – Mr. Spiess will present a slide review of preservation as it has taken place in the United States with special emphasis on where the movement is today and how it got there.
H	10:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.	Presidential Possessions – Paulette Watson will present a slide and lecture presentation of the collection in the James Monroe Museum, including commentary on the revelations and the mysteries of President Monroe's possessions.
	12:30 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.	Luncheon – Seacobeck Dining Hall – Green Room
I	2:00 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.	Field Study of Kenmore – the home of Betty Washington Lewis. Built in 1752 by Colonel Fielding Lewis. Mrs. Pendleton will lead discussion on the mansion itself as well as the importance of the preservation of the structure. ($2.00 entrance fee should be added with registration fee)
	4:30 p.m. – 6:00 p.m.	Reception at Anne Fairfax Alumni House
	8:00 p.m.	Mary Washington College Dance Company Concert – George Washington Hall

SESSION IV (for college bound high school students only)

8:30 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.	Registration – foyer Monroe Hall (Coffee & donuts will be served)
9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.	Attend lecture of your choice
10:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.	Admissions Session & Tour of MWC campus with Martin Wilder, Assistant Dean of Admissions.
12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.	Lunch with current students in Seacobeck Dining Hall
1:30 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.	Special student view of Mary Washington College - conducted by Jan Hodges '82 and Linda Goodwin '82 from the MWC Admissions Club.

Alumni News

Overwhelming Task at First

MWC Cookbook Nearing Publication

by Barbara Booker Palmer
Chairman, Cookbook Committee

Our little Charlotte Chapter of MWCAA, with fewer than 20 members, was only two years old when first approached by our Alumni Board with the question: What would we think of putting together a cookbook? It could include recipes from alumni all over the world, proceeds would benefit MWC, and wouldn't it be fun to renew college friendships this way?

Well, it took us a whole year to think about that! Of the 12 or 15 active members, six had new babies, most of us were busy raising children, and all but two of us were employed. Local editors of cookbooks told us of the enormity of the task, and each of us could come up with lots of reasons NOT to do it, but never let it be said that MWC grads refuse a challenge. . . we'd DO it! The two of us who were not expecting babies, not new mothers and not employed full-time were immediately elected Editor and Treasurer, willingness and degrees from MWC being our outstanding qualifications.

September 1979 found us with an immense collection of cookbooks, advice from local cookbook editors, price quotations from publishers nationwide and loads of questions. Mary Carson, director of alumni affairs, flew to Charlotte with MWCAA President Sylvia Woodcock for an exchange of ideas, final selection of a publisher and much encouragement.

All agreed that Mary Washington's Cookbook should be worthy of its name, something really special. In addition to favorite recipes it should contain items of interest to the public in general and, in particular, to those who look to MWC with affection.

The following month former Dean Edward Alvey spoke at our chapter meeting and graciously agreed to write an introduction and histories of the campus buildings so beautifully depicted in Dr. Bulent Atalay's sketches. Dr. Atalay's portfolio, "Land of Washington," containing 18 additional sketches of historic Virginia landmarks, was loaned to us for use as we wished...we wished to use all of it! And what could be more delightful than a directory of all the contributors to the cookbook, enabling us to contact them and renew acquaintances as we shared their recipes? We'd include that too.

Charlotte Chapter members sort recipes

Labels being readied for 800 advanced orders

Now that the plans were taking shape, the first step would be to let everyone know about it. The publicity, written by the Charlotte Chapter, was distributed to all 12,500 alumni through the winter edition of MWC Today, and by a separate mailing of the forms for recipes and advance orders. Meantime, our regular monthly meetings centered around cookbooks—compiling, editing, categorizing, proofreading, etc. Suddenly someone realized that none of us owned a typewriter in working order! And what happens if no recipes arrive? Or worse, 12,500!? Too late to turn back now. The treasurer's mailbox (not to mention the mailman) began to stretch and groan as it presented us with thousands of mouthwatering recipes and more than 800 advance orders!

Proofreading become the order of the day—every day, every week—with teams of two readers each, swapping stacks and stacks of recipes to insure that each one had been proofread at least twice before being placed in its proper category...and A&P grocery bag marked "APPETIZERS" or whatever. Meanwhile, our treasurer was keeping track of advance orders and payments and notifying teams when recipes were ready to be picked up. The editor was answering mail, rewriting "hard-to-read" recipes and learning what to do next in the order of things. All the while, EVERYBODY was PROOFREADING!

Our new mothers proofread while babies napped, our expectant mother proofread right up to the moment she left for the hospital (it's a boy!), and those who could not attend workshops phoned to ask for work to do at home. Our president (working part-time, raising 3 active boys and keeping her house spotless for potential buyers—husband transferred) still worked long nights on the cookbook and regularly called to ask what more she could do.

By May we were having meetings between meetings—we called them "workshops". Each member took home an entire category of already-proofread recipes, arranged them in the order of her choice and, at the next workshop, all were presented, discussed and agreed upon. The recipe count now stood at more than 500 desserts, 450 main dishes, etc.,—enough to fill several volumes of cookbooks.

It was then that the really difficult decisions began—which recipes should be included and which could be deleted? Illegible recipes were, of course, the first to be put aside; and obviously we did not need 197 congealed fruit salads, so those whose contributors had submitted other recipes were also assigned to the "delete" stack. Duplicates were easy—one recipe would be printed and all who had sent it in would be credited—until the list of credits ran to 12 or 14 names. Still there were hundreds too many! Deleting some "subcategories" helped, but the need for further cutting remained. And so, with the help of Gourmet Club members and a chef at a large downtown hotel, we neared our goal—to include the widest possible variety of the finest quality recipes from the largest number of contributors and to squeeze them all into approximately 300 pages! All contributors would be listed in the directory whether or not their recipes were published.

Ready for the publisher? Not quite. The introduction, acknowledgements, dedication, a blessing composed especially for the cookbook and a list of all recipes and their contributors—all needed to be typed in triplicate. Fortunately, by this time, some typewriters had been acquired or repaired.

On June 9, 1980, two months after the recipes began arriving, the cookbook had been compiled and placed in the hands of the publisher. At this writing, we are nearing the end of the two-month typesetting period, expecting the first proofs any day, and again we will be PROOFREADING—this time, the entire book in one week. During our "breather" from proofreading, additional publicity has been prepared, book-mailing envelopes have been acquired and address labels typed, so that when the finished books are delivered in early fall, they can be sent to you right away.

More than 800 recipes to tempt the appetite, fascinating stories of people and their place in the history of Virginia and Mary Washington College, beautiful sketches of beloved landmarks, and a directory of all who made this book possible, Mary Washington's Cookbook will truly be a book to treasure.

For your copy, gifts for Chapter speakers, etc., send your name, address and $8.90 per copy ($6.95 each, plus $1.95 postage and handling) to Mrs. Sherman Burson, 7515 Shady Lane, Charlotte, NC 28215. Please make checks payable to CHARLOTTE CHAPTER, MWCAA. Proceeds benefit the MWC Regional Scholarship Fund.

Here is the recipe for the cider served at Wakefield, George Washington's Birthplace, on his birthday.

Spiced Cider

1 gallon apple cider
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon whole allspice
1 stick cinnamon
1 scant cup sugar

Place spices in cheesecloth bag and bring cider, sugar and spices to boil; simmer 10 minutes and remove bag of spices. Keep hot but not boiling. Yield: 20 to 24 cups.

Pecan Puffs

1 stick butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons Bourbon or Blended Whiskey
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 cup chopped pecans
Confectioners' sugar

Cream butter and sugar. Add Bourbon and mix. Fold in flour and pecans and mix until dough gets stiff. Roll bits of the dough into small balls and bake on ungreased cookie sheet for 30 to 45 min. in oven preheated to 300 degrees. Roll hot puffs in confectioners' sugar. Yield: Approximately 40, depending upon the size puffs you desire.

Martha Poole Brown '66

Chapter News

TIDEWATER: The Tidewater Chapter offers the idea of running a silent auction during a chapter meeting to raise funds for the MWC annual fund. Each member brings in a white elephant and chapter members bid on paper. The winner not only takes home a new item but makes friends with others who may be bidding on the same object. The chapter raised $25 in one night.

ATLANTA: Dianne Linskey and Susan Quenzer hosted an organizational meeting/dessert at Susan's home last March. The meeting was held to celebrate the founding of Mary Washington College. Discussion covered the election of officers, student recruitment, chapter meetings and memories of the days at MWC. Anyone living in the Atlanta, Ga., area should contact Dianne Linskey, 1723 Woodcliff Court, Atlanta, for more information concerning this new chapter.

FAIRFAX: Kathleen Diehl Hartman was installed as the new president of the Fairfax Chapter. The chapter presented outgoing president, Barbara Barnes Krug, with a pewter Jefferson Cup engraved with the MWC seal. Dr. Donald Glover and Dr. H. Conrad Warlick presented a program to the group on the new Graduate Studies program and the new alumni involvement in the student recruitment program. The chapter is busy holding workshops for its annual Charity Bazaar held at Tyson's Corner. Each year, the members of the Fairfax Chapter raise more than $1,000 for the Regional Scholarship Fund through this Charity Bazaar.

FREDERICKSBURG: A new stereo-tape deck-phonograph combination has been added to the furnishings of Anne Fairfax Alumni House. This gift was made possible because of the hundreds of birthday cakes, roses and survival kits delivered to the students at MWC. Bambi Creighton Willis, president of the chapter, again presented a check in the amount of $2,000 to the MWC Foundation, restricted to the two Regional Scholars from the 7th District. Not only has the project been successful in the fund raising but also in good eating!

Atlanta Chapter members celebrate MWC founding.

CHARLOTTE: The cookbook committee is busy proofreading the final copy for the new Mary Washington's Cookbook scheduled for release this fall. Ann Perinchief Palamar, president of the MWC Alumni Association; Dr. Edward Alvey, retired dean of MWC; Dr. Bulent Atalay, professor of physics; and Mary Smith Carson, director of alumni, will journey to Charlotte, N.C. on October 25 to attend the cookbook dedication ceremony. Copies will be available in the Alumni House after that date. All copies which have been ordered will be mailed as soon as the books are available from the printer.

Call for Nominations

Your input into the Alumni Association is always welcome, but never more so than when nominations are due for important alumni positions. This year your suggestions are needed in three vital areas:

RECIPIENT OF THE DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD—This award is presented annually at Homecoming to an alumnus who has excelled in one or more of the following areas: professional/career development; civic activities; creativity in art, science or humanitarian causes; service to MWC. Remember that candidates should not know of their nominations. Nominations are due by December 1.

MEMBER OF THE MWC BOARD OF VISITORS—Members of the Board of Visitors are responsible for the present and future of the College. Appointments to this board are made by the Governor, and are based, in part, on recommendations submitted by the chairman of the Alumni Nominating Committee. Nominations are due by November 1.

MEMBER OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS—Members of the Alumni Association Board are responsible for the direction of your organization. Members are elected to positions as officers of the association and are asked to serve on a variety of important committees. Nominations are needed immediately.

You may submit your nomination in writing or request a nomination form from the Alumni Office.

Faculty Awards

Each year the Alumni Association gives $1,000 to the president of Mary Washington College to be distributed, under his discretion, to deserving students, faculty or alumni of Mary Washington College in their pursuit of advanced study. Awards were made to Jean Graham '72, instructor in dance, to attend the first national Body Therapy Workshop at Duke University; Vera Niebuhr, assistant professor of modern foreign languages, to pursue study of the Spanish language and culture in Mexico this past summer; and to Martha Fickett '63, instructor in music, for graduate courses at Catholic University. These scholarships are made possible through donations from alumni.

Classnotes

GOLDEN CLUB NEWS reported by Anita Pepmeier Bennett '22

Homecoming 1980 is now past history; however, for those who could not attend the festivities, I thought you might like to hear of the events. The Golden Club had its share of activities.

The first event was a delicious supper in the reserve parlor of Ann Carter Lee Hall. In attendance were 30 members of the Golden Club and special guests included President and Mrs. Prince B. Woodard, Dr. Edward Alvey, Sylvia Woodcock '61, president of the alumni association, Sharon Richmond '73, vice president for Homecoming and Mary Carson '71, director of alumni affairs. Each was given the opportunity to express a few words of greeting. Dr. Woodard reflected on the events which took place at MWC fifty years ago. The members of the class of '30 were given Golden Club Pins. After supper, most of the group attended the drama-dance department's production of "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie."

Following breakfast on Saturday morning, all attended the annual meeting held in George Washington auditorium, where it was announced that the Golden Club was reponsible for the donation of almost $5,000 given to the MWC Foundation for Regional Scholarships.

A barbecue luncheon was held on Ball Circle for all alumni and guests and all MWC students, many of whom greeted the Golden Club group. Right after lunch many of our group participated in the Homecoming parade. Lela Deere Darter, our new president, made the cover of the local newspaper, The Free Lance-Star, wearing one of the straw hats given to us at registration.

After the parade we returned to the reserve parlor of Ann Carter Lee Hall for the annual meeting of the Golden Club. A set of bylaws were presented and adopted. Election of officers resulted in:

President	Lela Deere Darter '28
Vice President	Louise Gordon Davies '29
Secretary	Mattie Mae Hughes Cloe '21
Treasurer	Mary Payne Cloe '46
Historian	Emma Thomas Morris '20
Past President	Anita Pepmeier Bennett '22

Several members of our group also attended the Homecoming banquet held at the Sheraton-Fredericksburg Motor Inn. Elizabeth Avery Gray, the Grellet Simpson Scholar for 1979 entertained the group with several renditions on her harp. A dessert-coffee was held at Brompton, the home of Dr. and Mrs. Woodard.

Ed. note: The Golden Club presented an engraved wooded plague to Mrs. Bennett in appreciation for all the work she has done for the formation of and success of the Golden Club. She has been involved with the Golden Club since its inception in 1972. Dr. Woodard and Sylvia Woodcock presented the plaque to her at the Golden Club supper.

14

Mrs. Nannie C. Oliver Foster, P. O. Box 93, Irvington, Va. 22480 (A-Z)

Editor's Note: The alumni office is trying to bring its files up to date on the class of 1914. If anyone knows what has happened to any of the following people, please contact the office: Ruth Elmore Clarkson, Helen Campbell Gardner, Jessie Gatewood Daffen, Mrs. Fred P. Kincaid, Lucy Gray Richardson Rouzie, Kathleen Holt Scott Warren, Beatrice Louise Ashley, Lelia Mae Perrin.

Several years ago I stopped in Morattico to see Louise Lewis. As I rounded the last turn before her house, whom should I see but Louise herself pushing a wheelbarrow of cement blocks toward me. She and the Rappahannock River were having a battle for the beach.

After working as supervisor of art in New Jersey, and later in the foothills of the Adirondacks, time came to retire. She naturally came back to the garden spot of Virginia, the Northern Neck. For many years she had a most productive garden.

Louise loves Morattico and is a member of a long line of old Northern Neck families. Her father was superintendent of schools when I taught in the area and gave me many spells of heart failure by coming into my class room unannounced. I learned early in my career that the best way to take care of that situation was to start a music class, the supt's never seemed to know much about music.

Louise does not drive, and her old chauffeur drives no more, so I'm always glad when we meet at some of the historical meetings. We roomed next door at MWC and always enjoy talking over "old times."

After a phone call to Virginia Haskins, Sara Temple Segar Scott's sister, I got straightened out on Temple. I might not have remembered where she lived, but I could never forget her sweet smile and gentle manner. Irvington and Saluda are just across the Rappahannock from each other so we exchanged visits soon after graduation.

I used to see Temple when I went on the shore to visit my brother. Temple taught in Saluda and later in Hampton. She married Holland Scott and they lived for a time in the old Scott home at Bridgetown, Southhampton County. Temple now lives at home with a companion in Onancock near two of her three children who see that she is well cared for.

Flora Hill, must hold a record of some sort. She taught for 42 of her 53 years as principal of a school in Colonial Heights, Va. Of course, that school is now "The Flora M. Hill Elementary School" as it should be. Her home is two blocks from the school. There are now six schools in the area where the school of which she became principal stood alone. How's that for the quiet, dignified, auburn-haired girl whom we knew at MWC?

She sent a snapshot of herself taken as she was arranging a vase of lovely flowers in her school. She spoke of living in a pleasant home surrounded by many fine friends and neighbors. "He that would have friends, must show himself friendly." I am sure that is why Flora has so many friends.

15

Mrs. Ruth R. Carter Vellines, 10525 Glencoe Road, Glen Allen, Va. 23060 (A-Z)

There were three of our class at the Homecoming in April...Margaret Sayre Ransone, Elsie Wood Rice, a native of Fredericksburg, and myself. Many interesting activities were enjoyed, such as a parade, Golden Club supper and luncheon on Ball Circle. The weather certainly cooperated with plans made. Elsie had us all to lunch on Friday at Homecoming. We enjoyed a visit with her and her sister-in-law. There is always such a warm reception at Ann Fairfax House by the Alumni Office staff. I am sure every alumnus feels welcome. I was in Roanoke at Easter. Called and talked to Junia Graves and Jean Dulayney. Had planned to visit them but a storm prevented my going. Both of them are in the same main building now, taking their three daily meals in the dining hall. Seemed to be in good spirits.

In June I went by plane to Germany with my daughter and son-in-law to see their daughter who worked in West Germany. While there, we saw the Passion Play at Oberammergau. A marvelous production by 800 people weaving the Old Testament with the New. It was a privilege of a lifetime, and consumed most of a day. We stayed with a family that had a prominent part in the play. This Bavarian town is noted for its wood carvings, and many houses are decorated with Fresco drawings or designs.

Margaret Sayre Ransone and I are buying the cookbook from the Charlotte Chapter. We look forward to books being delivered. Have just had a letter from Anne Murray, who has moved recently into an apartment. She has given up her home for a smaller place. Margaret is donating an old book entitled, Nathaniel Evens Poems, dated 1772, to the rare book section of the William and Mary College in Williamsburg. This book has been in her family since 1772 and is considered so valuable that they will not even risk it being sent through the mail. It will have to be "hand carried" by some representative of the library at William and Mary, who will come to her home to pick it up.

23

Mrs. Mary Briscoe Butler, 507 Jones Street, Suffolk, Va. 23434 (A-Z)

Please send me your class news. We have had very little news during the last year. Please send me a note or postcard with any information about yourself and family. I look forward to hearing from each one of you.

28

Rachael Wingfield De Angelo has had to limit her activities greatly during this past year. Because of health reasons she has had to curtail her work in local education and library organizations. She was privileged to serve on the Hawaii Governor's Task Force for The International Year of the Child in 1979. Rachael has been active in the Women's Association of the Honolulu Symphony, Friends of the Library of Hawaii, and many other professional organizations. She still maintains her office in the beautiful new quarters of the Graduate School of Library Studies at the University of Hawaii.

29

Mrs. Helen Van Denburg Hall, Box C-61, Locust Hill, Va. 23092 (A-Z)

Carolyn Holland Coleman has heard from Elizabeth Gooch who lives in Suffolk. Carolyn is living in Valdosta, Ga. She says that Mary Bernice Holland Murphy is living in Georgia, and that she has been quite ill with a heart condition. Carolyn taught in Winston-Salem, Germany, and Northern Virginia before moving to Georgia.

30

Ruth Pope Garrett and Elizabeth Gooch teach a group of Cambodians. Ruth retired from teaching in 1976. In April she visited Hawaii, and in July she went to Germany and Czechoslovakia. Blanche Edwards McKenney has become a grandmother for the sixth time. She is active doing volunteer work at the Rappahannock General Hospital, and in 1979 she enjoyed a bus tour of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

The Alumni Office wishes to thank Evelyn Robinson Woolfolk and her daughter for writing and typing the reunion booklet for the class of '30. This was done under the sadest of circumstances, as Evelyn lost her husband early this year. At this time there is no class agent for the class of 1930. If anyone would like to volunteer, please contact the Alumni Office, and we will be happy to train you.

31

Mrs. Ola Murray Martin, Box 95, Beaverdam, Va. 23015 (A-Z)

Looking forward to the 55th reunion and will plan on attending with my sister, Mary. In May and June, Mary and I had a fabulous trip to China. We visited the ancient cities of China and were impressed by the warm and friendly Chinese people.

34

Mrs. Ann B. Huddlestun Sanford, 4 E. Ave., Bayshore Windmill Village, Bradenton, Fl. 33505 (A-Z)

Although I have become quite discouraged over this job that I have undertaken—it does have its rewarding moments. After my appeal in the winter Edition—the first person that I heard from was Elizabeth Abbot Kales, who was my maid of honor and we had lost contact over all these years! What a thrill! Libba now lives in York, Pa., was widowed in 1966. She has three children; Ann graduated from M.W.C. She also has six grandchildren, and keeps busy with clubs and organizations.

Bee Child French and husband Donald moved to a mobile home park in Conn. for the summer months, and still live in Stuart, Fla. during the winter months. If anyone is in the Stuart area during the winter they would be glad to welcome them to Lot 58, Natalie Estates. I was so glad to read about Vernie Blakenship Knight '37 as we both came from the small city of Clifton Forge, Virginia.

Eleanor Dickerson Van Train writes that she is a very busy person. She retired three years ago from the Atlantic Richfield Co. as Admin. Sec. Now she gives her time to charities. She is active in the Republican Party of Texas and the Magic Circle Group in Houston. She has won many ribbons with Walking and Jogging Club, and walks two miles a day. On campus she was known as "Lovebird", but is now known as "Choo Choo" Van Train. She asks that any classmates of '34 in Houston give her a telephone call.

I had a nice note from Mary Ann Ratner Levy offering her services in sending me news. I appreciate all help—so let me hear from some more classmates.

Florence Johnson Dodge's days are busy doing things with her 4 grandchildren. She wants to attend Homecoming '84 to help celebrate her 50th reunion. Esther Bernston Pearson retired from the position of principal in an Illinois elementary public school. She and her husband keep busy with temporary minister or missionary work. They have two children and two grandchildren.

35

Mrs. Loretta Folger Duffy, 11 Hazelton Road, Barrington, R.I. 02806 (A-Z)

The Alumni Office wishes to thank Ruth Evangeline Shirley Lewis for serving as Class Agent for the class of 1935. Without her help and assistance, the reunion booklet for the class would not have been completed. Your new agent is Loretta Folger Duffy. Please write any news to her so that we can keep up-to-date on all of you. (Ed.)

Marie Kraft Kelleher went to Maine after the birth of her 13th grandchild. She was hoping to attend Homecoming but will definitely plan to attend the 50th in 1985.

36

Mrs. Adelle Mansfield Goodwin, Route 2, Box 355, Orange, Va. 22960 (N-Z)
Mrs. Ethel E. Nelson Wetmore, 107 Manteo Avenue, Hampton, Va. 23661 (A-M)

Frances Liebenow Armstrong plans to retire next June after 45 years of teaching. Her husband, Sidney, was elected to an eighth term on City Council. Frances says she will be happy to do anything she can to make our 45th reunion the best ever!

Frances Curtis Smith Kapfer is looking forward to a trip to Australia in October.

Alice Dew Hallberg '37 and Helene Wallace Garnett '37 were in Oberammergau Germany to see the Passion play.

Ethel Nelson Wetmore attended the week-end conference for Women of the Church, Synod of the Virginias, at Massanetta Springs. She also attended the Assemblywide Women's Conference at Montreat, N.C. in July. There were representatives from churches and presbyteries in fifteen synods at this conference.

We hope you are making plans to attend our 45th Reunion next April!

Nannie Marshall Schools is now retired and is living in Cherokee Village, AR.

37

Mrs. Alice Johnson Birtwell, 1572 Pleasant Rd., Apt. J-27, Bradenton, Fl. 33505 (A-B)
Mrs. Dorothy Ball Eason, 2588 Babcock Road, Vienna, Va. 22180 (C-F)
Mrs. Adele Crowgey Giles, 701 Palmyra Drive, N.W., Roanoke, Va. 24012 (G-L)
Mrs. Lucy L. Pierson Welsh, 2301 Cowan Blvd., Apt. 63C, Fredericksburg, Va. 22401 (S-Z)

News from the "Town Girls" of the Class of '37. Many of us left Fredericksburg after graduation and have returned for our retirement years. Some stayed and gave of their talents to our native town and community. Others return to Fredericksburg to visit family and friends.

Margaret Tyson Van Auken and Lois Gaye Holmes stayed and gave of their talents to the Fredericksburg City Public Schools. Margaret served as General Supervisor and is now Principal of Hugh Mercer Elementary School. Lois is a teacher at Hugh Mercer School.

Genevieve Tyson Davis, Margaret's cousin from Maryland, lived at the Tyson's and attended MWC as a "Town Girl". Genevieve was a home economics major and continued her training in hospital dietetics. She served in World War II as a dietitian. Genevieve and her husband, Ralph, retired and were living at Mt. Dora, Flo. Her husband died last year.

Frances Gray Nash Young continues to live in Rockville, Maryland. She is a frequent visitor to her Fredericksburg home. Betty Abbey Cline has settled back in town after living in the "Country", Weems, Va. and in Florida. Betty enjoys her family and grandchildren.

Emily Clay Rowe Brandberg lives in Butler, Pa. She is active in local organizations. Emily Clay returns to "Town" about twice a year to visit family and friends. She and Guy have five grandchildren. Lucy Lee Pierson Welsh returned to Fredericksburg for retirement and to get away from the snow of up-state New York, only to find Virginia with more snow than Albany!

Lucy P. Welsh

Adele Crowgey Giles and others have made a tremendous effort to reorganize the Roanoke Valley Chapter. They had their spring luncheon on April 26th with a good turnout of Alumni. Mary Carson, director of alumni affairs, our new academic dean, Mary Ann T. Burns and Anita Pepmeier Bennett, past president of the Golden Club, were guests.

I cannot tell you of the many, many activities in which Adele is involved, yet she has found the time to serve her Alma Mater well. Adele is to be commended and I am very grateful for the assistance she gives me.

Frances Tillery Kirby '35 has lived in Miami, Florida for more than twenty years. Two daughters and grandchildren live there, too. Frances wrote that she has traveled a good bit "in her old age''. Travel has carried her to England, Europe and on several trips to the west coast.

Frances Mayse Agreen, better known as ''Billie,'' served with the Red Cross in '42 and worked in military hospitals as a recreation director. She completed her masters in social work, and worked in D.C. until '56. She then moved to Asbury Park, N.J. and worked in a mental health clinic. ''Billie'' returned to Virginia and is now Supervisor of Adult Services for Loudoun County. She lives near her 89-year-old mother. Son, Stewart attended V.P.I. He has his pilot's license and will join a student group this summer for study in Great Britain.

Joe and Bill Robertson were in Florida for 2 weeks this winter. Time did not permit a trip to the west coast. Bill is an avid golfer so he participated in the Gator Tournament for the Eastern Senior Association in Ocala, Fla. The Robertsons had a lovely trip to Hawaii in January.

In April, Frances Curtis Kapfer telephoned and we had a nice long chat. Daughter Anita, had a bouncing 9 lb. baby girl, born Dec. 13th. Son N.J., married on September 15th and lives in Australia. Son Bobby married the 15th of October. Frances Curtis plans to visit N.J. and son in Australia in the fall. What with building a new home and furnishing it I'd say she has been quite busy.

I am making an appeal for some person who lives in the Hampton, Newport News, Norfolk area to help us gather news and give assistance when necessary. We are presently with a contact person there. Would some one volunteer accept this responsibility so that the vast number of alumni residing there are kept informed of college events.

Do send your news to us before our next deadline of November 15.

Thanks Mrs. W. T. Robertson for your help the last 3 years.

Having taken early retirement in 1978 and received special recognition for teaching 40 consecutive years in public education in the State of Virginia, Vashiti Hammett stays busy working with the Adult Education Evening School Program in Richmond.

Though Lois Petersen Humphrey is retired from the employment rolls, she stays ''busier than ever.'' Besides being active in the Burlington Historical Society, being Registrar of Voters, a newspaper correspondent for senior citizens, and treasurer of the Cemetery Association in her community, she gardens and travels. As if that weren't enough activity, she has taken classes in Physical Fitness and Disco Dancing! 'Tis safe to say she has no trouble keeping up with her five grandchildren, ages ranging from 4 to 14 years.

Ann Lipscomb Kline's news is sad and glad. Having lost her husband, Allen, last November, she is deeply bereaved and burdened by the new responsibilities she has inherited. However, she is beginning to see the light at the end of the tunnel. On the bright side, she has four great daughters and a new grandchild with expectations of another in July. She is a substitute teacher in Arlington, Va. and, for relaxation, she plays bridge.

From Glenolden, Pa., comes news of Eloise Trussell Kousz. She, a retired teacher, and her husband, John, a retired General Electric engineer, stay busy with church and civic activities. She belongs to the Retired Teachers Association, Daughters of the American Colonists, D.A.R. and A.A.U.W. She is past president of the Pennsylvania State Delta Kappa and lists as honors and recognitions: Gamma Society, President of Springfield, Pa. Lutheran Church Women, Chairman of World Affairs in the 1980's Seminar at Pennsylvania State University.

Eleanor ''Billie'' Barnett Lanford, a homemaker married to Allan A. Lanford, retired postmaster in Palmyra, Va., reports that they are very much occupied with civic and church activities and traveling. They were voted ''Family of the Year'' by their church. She lists her children as her main accomplishments: Robert Allan, on the Richmond, Va., police force; Randolph Ewing, a doctor who will begin his practice in the Fork Union area July 1; and Eleanor Lanford Mills, a graduate of MWC and married to a U.Va. professor.

Charlotte Frazer Lindsey, having retired from Averett College is a homemaker, married to Louis who is a tobacconist in Danville, Va. She has taken courses in philosophy and religion and is now taking lessons in music (pipe organ). Her hobbies are tennis and golf.

Sarah Gray Wilson and husband, Chuck, spent a month in Florida this year. They visited friends throughout the state and spent two weeks in West Palm Beach. They had lunch with Mary Franklin Miller and husband, Ed.

Peg Smith Doley and husband, John, joined their son and his family for a boat trip to the Virgin Islands. They cruised around the islands, anchored out at night, snorkeled, fished, relaxed and enjoyed the scenery and sun. Son, Jep, piloted the trawler named the ''Tooth Ferry.''

Lib Johnson Birtwell

39

Mrs. Henrietta Roberts Echols, 945 Donation Drive, Virginia Beach, Va. 23455 (A-M)

Mrs. Mary Bowles Hartley, 3464 Colonial Ave., S.W., Apt. 108, Roanoke, Va. 24018 (N-Z)

We know those who attended Homecoming in April not only saw a beautiful cmapus but were able to see friends not seen for many years. Henrietta had planned to visit during Homecoming especially to see friends from the class of '40 but her daughter and husband decided to visit for a week and did indeed arrive in Virginia Beach the afternoon of April 19. Maybe we will be able to meet at the next reunion for '40 in 1985.

Just a reminder that the publication of our class news occurs three times during the year and that there is quite a wait between submission of news and its actual publication. Be patient and keep in touch with your class agents because your news item will eventually be printed.

Helen Hyde Saunders and her husband, Tom, are both retired and enjoy traveling and their vacation home in the Sierras. Mildred Wiliams and her sister flew from N.C. to El Paso last winter to visit friends, just to arrive back home during one of the worst snow storms. Next they plan to visit Natchez, Miss.

Mildred Williams writes about excellent restaurants in Charleston, S.C. She knows that Gene and I will be going there sometime during September. Our daughter is expecting our first grandchild and we will be with her for a week or so after the ''arrival''. Bernice Whipple Camp plans a visit to Conn. during September.

You can readily see how sparse the news is. Sometime when you think of MWC or a class mate sit down and write a few lines to one of your agents. We will make something out of it. You may be surprised how interesting you are.

Henrietta

So great to receive such happy news from Anne Shaffer Rankin in March asking me to have the College change records to show her new name—changed from Shannon to Rankin. Anne says she was not at our 40th reunion last year because she was ''courting.'' Now she is married to James C. Rankin, ''a wonderful man'', who grew up in Fredericksburg. They travel a bit and share a happy retirement.

I am getting ready to go to Paris and environs and Rome and environs in May with eleven other women from Roanoke area. What are you doing out there? Please share with the rest of us. 'Til next time—Mary

40

Mrs. Mary L. Wilcox Dull, 1816 Harvard Avenue, N.W., Canton, Oh. 44709 (A-Z)

The Alumni Office wishes to thank Mary Louise Wilcox Dull for editing and writing the reunion booklet for the class of 1940. Without her dedication to MWC the reunion of the class would not have been complete. Thank you so much Mary Lou! (Ed.)

Thanks so much for your contributions to the Alumni Association in our homecoming year. A whopping 38% of you responded. Homecoming was attended by the following: Rosella Tuck Davidson, Lula Bray Cockerill, Sarah Dixon Grey, Gladys Dutron Hawes, Jean McCaffrey Lewis, Victoria Harris Massie, Bess Dobbins Maxey, Charlotte Pride Mitchell, Lee Wingate Keith Pappandreau, Martha Murray Peck, Maxine Morea Salle, Eunice Martin Smith, Courtney Edmond Van Fossen, Gail Smith Wood, Kathryn Wygal, and Kay Rucker Wynne. It was a small but happy group. Please drop me a note when you hear from your roommates or friends. Happy Memories!

41

Mrs. E. Josephine Ewing Balzer, 7 Calf Circle, Newport News, Va. 23606 (A-M)

Mrs. Jamie E. Redwood Witzel, 22 Norwich Road, Wellesley, Ma. 02181 (N-Z)

Phyllis Bancroft Meyer and husband, Eric, saw their son, Donald, graduate from VMI in June. Eric is also an alumnus of VMI. They are in the process of semi-retiring and are liquidating their business and have made a hobby of buying older homes and renovating them. They invite their old friends to visit them in Delray Beach, Fla.

42

Mrs. Mary Pride Hunninghake, 933 Gates Avenue, Norfolk, Va. 23517 (A-Z)

Lois Ann Heimer Hoefer writes that she was widowed in 1977. She moved to Leisure World Laguna Hills, Ca. The first of this year she took a cruise on the Island Princess from Los Angeles through the canal to the Caribbean. A sentimental journey, since she lived in Puerto Rico, Trinidad and Panama from 1945 to 1950 and met and married Jack there. She has visited with Eloise Strader who has retired from teaching.

Gwen Miller Reams and husband, Jack, went to France to meet and visit her pen pal of 42 years. Gwen has been living in Fairfax for nearly 12 years. She has 3 children and 1 grandchild. She frequently hears from Isabel Elliot Taylor, Margie Tayloe Wooldridge, Anna De Negri Lawson, Mary Pride Hunninghake, Anne Givler Lindsay and the Seay twins.

43

Mrs. Frances Wills Stevens, 432 Oakland Drive, Raleigh, N.C. 27609 (A-G)

Mrs. Dorabelle Forrest Cox, 135 Forrest Drive, Poquoson, Va. 23662 (H-N)

Mrs. Hilda Holloway Law, 6 Ensigne Spence, Williamsburg, Va. 23185 (O-Z)

Nina McElwee Wornom was widowed in 1978. She is secretary at Hampton Baptist Church. Son

Mark is stationed in Germany and daughter Lisa will be a junior at VPI this fall. Mamie Stable Via is secretary-coordinator for "Keep America Beautiful" in Hampton, Va. Son William, has Xerox account at MWC and son James, graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Virginia Law School this fall.

Frances L. Rice retired from the Frederal Civil Service last January after 35 years of employment. Frances was honored with a reception at which time she was presented with the Army Commander's Award for Civilian Service. She was named to appear in the 1978 edition of "Who's Who in the South and Southeast." Claire Moore Kelly retired after 20 years of teaching. Claire and husband, Ralph, live in Chatsworth, Ca. Their son was just recently married and lives in Fla. Marcia Williams Dighello attended the wedding of her son in Spain last June. She is looking forward to becoming a Grandma this summer when her daughter has her first child.

Betsy Taylor Tazewell graduated from ODU in June of 1973, 30 years after she left MWC. She and John have five children and seven grandchildren. They are both going to teach in a Montessori school this year. With all this, they still have time to enjoy art, the aged, boating and trips to the Holy Land every 3 years.

I regret my slackness due to the death of our son on Feb. 27 in an auto tanker-truck collision. He lived in Wilmington, N.C. and was on a business trip. I have been occupied with his widow and our 5½-year old granddaughter. I am deeply indebted to Hilda and Dorabelle for the news.

News from Mary Wallace Huskey—a trip to Israel, Jordan and Rome just after Christmas, in April a note saying she was remarried in June to a retired Baptist minister from Mississippi. They will live in Memphis. A note last year brought news from Carolyn Pittman Day that her son was married in June, it was also her high school reunion year. However, I recently visited Carolyn and discovered that she had a heart attack the day of her departure. She is doing very well but has to be careful.

Eleanor Wilbourne Pinkerton attended the Triangle Chapter (N.C.) meeting last fall. She had visited her daughter who was a senior at Stanford U. at Palo Alto, went with the MWC Alumni group to London and became a grandmother in October. This daughter received her Ph.D. in August and is a professor at Ohio University in Athens.

Harriet Tyler Miller's husband is a professor at Indiana U. She sent a clipping of the retirement of Bernard Fry who was a librarian at Trinkle during our years. Some of you may not remember that he married June Foster '43. Bernard was Dean, Indiana Univ. Graduate Library School for the last 13 years.

Christmas cards came from Priscilla Macpherson Allen who attended Mardi Gras '79 and whose daughter married last October and is living in Wichita Falls, Tex.; Nancy Inglis Russ's daughter has married and is living in Jacksonville Fla. Nancy and family moved back to Fredericksburg several yars ago. From Dottie McGlothlin Mullins came news of her travels to the Carribean and tour of the West. Harriet Tyler Miller sent an interesting clipping about June Foster Fry's exhibit of family Christmas cards, many hand made from 1907 to the mid-1950's. I had word from Migit Gardner that she and her husband were going on the MWC trip to Israel and hoped there would be somebody she would know. Last year they went down the Danube to the Black Sea and Istanbul on a U. of Michigan tour.

Claire Moore Kelly has retired from teaching and is delivering library materials to shut-ins. She and Ralph had a trip to Europe last summer. Their daughter Linda is president of Colorado Asso. of Physical Educators. Son Scott was named "Outstanding Squadron Instructor" in '78 at Pensacola. All the family flew there in Oct. '79 to his wedding, the same station where Claire and Ralph started their married life in '44.

Last, but not least—God was kind and brought us a new grandson a month after Steve's death. "Mac" and his parents are stationed at Seymour Johnson Air Base in Goldsboro, N.C.

Fran Wills Stevens

44

Mrs. Jane Brownley Thomas, 7413 Arrowood Road, Bethesda, Md. 20034 (A-Z)

The alumni office has received two newsletters from Fran Tracy in Guyana, S.A. She is well and very pleased with the work they are doing to translate the Bible into Wapishana. Her letters are always written in an optimistic manner and filled with stories of her joys and problems.

Elizabeth Gorham Simpson writes that they live 22 miles from Three Mile Island and that she could write a book about the nerve wracking time which they have gone through. She keeps up with her former roommate, Mary Frances Plunkett Knox. Fran is living in St. Paul, Minn.

Ilva Haynie Doggett and husband, John, have 2 daughters. Julianne is a MWC alumnus and Amy is a UVa grad. Ilva has traveled extensively during this past years.

45

Mrs. Virginia Gunn Blanton, 369 Lexington Road, Richmond, Va. 23226 (A-Z)

The alumni office wishes to thank Virginia Gunn Blanton for serving as class agent for the last five years and in a moment of weakness she agreed to serve as class agent for another five years. On behalf of the class, Gloria Post Goodsell wishes to thank Virginia for her good work. (Ed.)

Ruth Smith Hargrave and husband, John, attended Homecoming and enjoyed every minute of it. They have a new grandchild born in June.

What a great reunion we had in April. Twenty nine of us returned to MWC for our 35th and we talked and talked and talked. We missed all the rest of the class.

Gloria Post Goodsell came from Ft. Smith, Arkansas, and was excited over the prospect of becoming a grandmother. Her granchild was born in June. Mary Doswell Simpson and Jack journeyed to Richmond to meet Gloria, Christine Brauer Krausee, Frances Watts Barker and me for the trip to MWC. Mary's daughter was married last summer. Frances' daughter, Nancy, has a second son. Skip Potts Taylor and Wally shared pictures of their family with us. They are grandparents by both daughters.

Nancy Aitcheson Taylor joined us from Alexandria; husband, Bill, is a consulting engineer.

Hildy Parks Cohen and her husband, Alex, were at MWC for Homecoming. They had been in Baltimore for the pre-Broadway tryout of their new play which is a smash hit on Broadway.

Helen Hawkins Olson's husband is recuperating from a heart attack in Fairfax. Their son graduated from ODU and is now at George Mason working on his master's.

Ruth Smith Stanley introduced her daughter, Debbie, who has been serving as VP for Classes of the alumni association. Ruth is married to a Methodist minister and they have four children. Elinor McClellan Cox took a short break from her busy life as a jewelry store owner and church worker in Ind. to join all of us. More exciting news about our classmates in the next issue!

Janet Keefer Wurmstich writes that she has three married daughters and one son who will be a freshman at the UVa in September. She is thrilled to have him in Virginia.

46

Mrs. Jane Hockenberry Holden, 7853 Oreana Drive, Annandale, Va. 22003 (A-Z)

A big thanks for what little news I received. Lynn Bennett Blackwell and Guy II celebrated their 25th anniversary in November with a trip to Puerto Rico. Madeline Scanland Bruce visited her daughter and husband in Germany. Roy and I saw Europe by rail in October.

Lynn opened her home to MWC choir members when they performed at Rutgers University: Peg Earl, Jane Lohr, Bonnie Sue Jacobs, Kim Manning (all '79) and Lauri Durbin, Martha Cline ('81)—transported, wined, dined, bedded down and gave them the cook's tour of my home town, Madison, N.J.

Ruth Work Buckingham's annual report: newest grandchild, Krista McDonnel; son John and Sue Dean married; daughter Faith graduated from high school and spent seven weeks in Europe.

A mini-reunion in Richmond in February featured Janice Worsley Mayberry, Betty Atkins Powers, Nora Russell Dickens, Mim Riggs Gay, Dr. Vivian Wilkerson and Mickey Dixon Sullivan, Elizabeth Sullivan Vaughan ('45).

Dot Barrett Martin '43 surprised me with a call while visiting daughter Harwood, in Alexandria. Chatted with Effie Sunderlin Robinson '45 and Erma Whitaker Henry '49 at a Christmas Eve party in Yorktown.

Frank Butler (Virginia Hawley Butler '44) copiloted his son-in-law's (Roy's nephew) plane to Dulles to take us to a VPI football game. Their daughter, Sue Ellen is in medical school in Lewisburg, W. Va., as is our daughter, Nancy, at Eastern Virginia Medical School in Norfolk. Alice Ginter Cobb's son, Tom, is at VPI and Betsy Hilldrup Morris' eldest son is in law school.

A speedy recovery from a heart attack is wished for hubby of Lois Davis Minatree. Happy anniversary to Frances Holsclaw Brown and Roland. Jeanne Veazey McDonald's husband is enjoying his retirement from the Labor Department. Their grandson, Sean, is 16 months old.

Anyone know the whereabouts of Phyllis Bell, Dot McChesney, Marion Brooks, Lula Gray, Virginia Oquist Cameron, or Anna Jones? Your notes or calls make this column. Please help!

47

Mrs. Doris Lippold Burns, 1418 Milestone Drive, Silver Spring, Md. 20904 (L-Z)

Mrs. Helen V. Schier Drury, 803 Terra California Dr., #3, Walnut Creek, Ca. 94595 (A-K)

After 35 years Eleanor Gerb Packer visited MWC and enjoyed an evening with Jean Drummond Braoddus and her husband. Jean graduated from NYU, married, and has been living in Huntington, N.Y. Jean has two daughters, both special-ed teachers, a son in Boston U. Medical School, and a 16-year-old son at home. She, too, is a grandmother.

48

Miss Geraldine Dawson White, 2531 Woodland Drive, Charlottesville, Va. 22903 (A-Z)

Glenna Graves Shiflett is teaching art in Williamsburg, Va. She is on the Review Board of the On The Hill Gallery in Yorktown and is soon to be published in "School Arts—Clip Board."

49

Mrs. June Davis McCormick, 18 Lynnbrook Road, St. Louis, Mo. 63131 (A-Z)

The long, hot summer here in the midwest has not kept our postman from his appointed rounds; however, he hasn't been weighed down exactly by correspondence from my fellow '49ers. Still have a few items which missed a prior deadline, to wit:

Betty Strother Hilbish finally checked in from Tacoma, Wa., wondering how 30 years could pass so quickly. She and Frank, now retired, spent 25 of them traveling from place to place in the Air Force. Their four children are Jerry, taking his Ph.D. in marine biology, State U. of N.Y.; Fred, a Marine just returned from Okinawa; David, a bank teller in Calif.; and Patricia, a sophomore at U. of Wash. Betty, whose first grandchild is named Elizabeth in her honor, ended by asking the whereabouts of Mary Ann Godsey Little.

Yes, Betty, we do have "Godsey's" address: 11 Long Crescent, Bristol, Va. 24201. That's according to the latest computer listing of '49ers, which reminds me to remind you to keep us up to date on any change of address. The next printout is to be mailed to all class agents in January, so now is the time to submit any data changes for yourself or those about whom you know.

Betty Bond Heller Synon wrote that daughter Cathy and husband are in Frankford, Germany (Procter & Gamble) for the next two years and would love to "see anybody who has any connection with anybody she's ever known"! An open invitation for sure; however she warns anyone planning to visit Europe: bring money! From friends' advice, let's add, see America first. That's exactly what Betty's son Kevin is doing, especially the eastern seaboard, as bass player with a band called "Silver". They're slated for another USO tour this fall in the Mediterranean.

For those who have not submitted their contribution to MWC this year, Betty highly recommends supporting the Regional Scholarships via your donation. Betty continues to serve on her district committee and is most favorably impressed with the applicants as all-around good students.

Our faithful former class agent Anne "Miami" McCaskill Libis wrote of attending the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid in February as the "most exciting days of my life." She spent four nights with roomie Peggy Elliott Sweeney and family in Ilion, N.Y. They all attended the daily contests, driving up in the wee small hours and tailgating breakfast in 8-degree temperatures. "Miami" adds the heartwarming info that daughter Claudia is teaching mobility to blind children in Harrisburg, Pa.

Words of encouragement also came from our most recent class agent Irvin "Kitten" Whitlow Westbrook, who relayed that Leona Hall Howard's son, Joe, was married last year. She enclosed a note from Connie Conley Stuart.

Connie was a LA delegate to AFTRA's annual convention last summer, at Nashville, then flew to Atlanta to visit roomie Norah Pitts Byrner, her doctor husband, Bill, and their three sons. Their suitemate Betsy Thorne Boultman journied from Columbia, S.C. to join them, leaving her architect husband, Phelps, and two daughters to hold the fort. Connie said they really had a ball, giggling like the former schoolgirls we all remember. Connie and Bomar's elder son, Tony, now is a lawyer and their younger, Curtis, is in theatre school.

My roomie, Dot Repko Hoffman, wrote that she finally caught Connie on the tube, in her role on "Days Of Our Lives", when the 'flu caused her to skip school. I haven't seen Connie in action yet, as I'm seldom home at the hour the show airs here, but I spotted her in a picture of AFTRAns recently and I'd have known her anywhere! We're glad the current SAG-AFTRA strike isn't affecting daytime drama, Connie.

Congratulations to Phyllis Bingham McGaha, who has been active in the D.A.R. in Vienna, W.Va., and recently was named a Kentucky Colonel by Governor John Brown of that state. That is a deserved honor, Phyllis, but are you sure it equates to an F.F.V.?

While I never promised you a rose garden, I did plant a "'49er" among my hybrid teas this year for our class, for the memories of the way we were and in appreciation of the way we are. Most of my club activities are in hiatus until September. As much as I enjoy the lessened pace of summer, I actually anticipate the respite of fall. At this juncture of our lives, what we really do not need more of is. . . heat!

Hark, is that the postman? Could he be bearing tidings from Old Virginny, from some far-flung city, from a cavern, from a canyon, from a miner. . . '49er?

50

Mrs. Dorothy Held Gawley, 177 McCosh Rd., Upper Montclair, N.J. 07043 (A-Z)

The alumni office wishes to thank Dot for the tremendous work which she did in helping to make the class reunion for 1950 a big success. She certainly is dedicated to MWC. We thank her and wish her luck in her continuance as class agent.

Marceline Weatherly Morris saw her son, Tip, graduate from Marshall Wythe Law School in May. He married his French pen pal and plans to live in Newport News. Marcy's daughter, Ellen, and family live next door to her in King George. She now has two granddaughters.

Mary Jane Bassett Currier's daughter, Katie, just graduated from Dartmouth College. Katie will be joining Filene's in Boston in a management development program following in her mother's footsteps. Younger daughter, Betsy, will be a junior at Middleburg College. Husband, Bill, was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

Marcy and Juney had several staying at their home. Billie Mitchell Hanes from Virginia Beach and Barbara Booker Palmer from Charlotte, N.C. Bobbie is editor of the Charlotte Chapter cookbook and directory. Also from that third floor Ball suite we had Anne "Ozzie" Osborn Cox and Frank who were up from Plantation, Fla. Their youngest daughter, Sheri, was married in August '79.

It's hard to know exactly where to begin to tell you what a wonderful 30th Reunion we had in mid-April. We missed all of you who were unable to attend and hope you can join us in 1985. Somehow our get-togethers seem better as the years go by. At our class meeting I was re-elected class agent and presented with thoughtful gifts from those present. Thank you all again for placing your confidence in me. We had about 35 alumni return with a few real surprises.

D.G. Pate Wilson flew in from Upland, Ca. She is a professor of speech at Mt. San Antonio College and husband, Bruce, teaches political science at Cal. Poly. They have four children.

Several others arrived from Florida—Connie Metzger Verlander and Joe, who live in Maitland and Celia Boushee Bullard from Jacksonville. Connie is a Realtor-Associate and has won two awards for Leading Salesperson. Joe is with Martin Marietta Corp. Their son, Michael is married and will soon begin his residency in anethesiology at UVa. Second son, Paul, is in Winter Park—a licensed landscape architect. Mary, 21, is an engineering administrator in Martin Marietta. Clelia and husband, Ray, have four daughters and one grandchild. Two of their daughters have B.S. degrees in nursing and work in local hospitals. With Clelia were Eleanor Sullivan Lewis of Chevy Chase, Md. and Mary Jane McIntosh Young who lives in McLean. Mary Jane works for the CIA, and she and Floyd have five children. Beverly Youngs Robinson is another classmate who has five children. Bev, who teaches in Hampton, received her M.S. in education in 1979. Her daughter has a B.S. in chemistry from MWC.

Although Carmen Zeppenfeldt Catoni could not attend, her daughter, Ana, a senior at MWC, introduced herself to some of us at the outdoor luncheon and sent greetings from her mother. Carmen attended graduation on May 10. B.J. Lyle Dunbar's sister, Martha '55, came over with greetings from B.J. in Miami, Fla. And Beth Dawideit Gravatt's sister, Ann '45, spoke with us. Beth lives in Milford where her husband is a farmer. Jane Frazier Snead and her husband have one of the few remaining dairy farms in the Fredericksburg area. They are visited by classes from the nearby schools. Ruth Weaver Regenold who came from Elizabethton, Tenn. had to visit the farm and got in the hayloft. Ruth is an education coordinator and instructor in a program for medical laboratory technicians. It is an extended service facility of East Tennessee State Univ. Her husband is a medical laboratory technologist and they have four children.

Louise Seuffert Desjardines from Wynnewood, Pa. and Babs Ogden from Detroit, Mich. stayed together. Babs has been working for the J.L. Hudson Co., first, as a buyer and now in branch store management.

Nat Wilton, now in Portland, Oregon, went to the Republican convention in Detroit and stayed one night with Babs Ogden. Babs had recently returned from a trip to Great Britain.

A letter from Alicia de Rivera in Santurce, P.R. arrived after our reunion. Since graduation, she worked in a psychatric hospital and then continued her studies at the Universidad Central de Madrid in Spain where she got a Ph.D. in clinical psychology. She has worked for several government agencies and has taught. She has also done volunteer work with underprivileged children and their families. Having become quite interested in all phases of culture, Alicia has acquired many paintings, some having been created by her own patients. She is also an assistent editor with a publishing company.

Carol Bailey Miller was sorry to miss the reunion but had a great time at Paradise Island. Also took a walking tour of Nassau.

Mary Cottingham Warren is now a grandmother for the second time. She is a registered nurse. She is driving cross country to her hometown, Bennettsville, S.C., and will visit her sister and family at Thanksgiving; also will be working part-time in the hospital where she was born. She will return to Calif. via Southern route—New Orleans, Grand Canyon, etc.

Found Liz Garey Parode in Tucson, Ariz. Her two daughters graduated from Univ. of Ariz., and one flies for American Airlines.

Before I close I have to tell you about finding some of our lost members who attended Homecoming. Ann Wilson Payne who has five children lives in Exmore and is a neighbor of Betsy Jacob Ingram. Ann was with former roommate, Kitty Keely Agnagnost from Rivervale, N.J. Thanks to Gerry Boswell Griffin of Atlanta, Ga., Lenora Ladd Sloan and her husband were there from Silver Spring, Md. The two couples had a good reunion taking advantage of the tours provided by the College. And thanks to her daughter, Ann, who is dorm director of Mary Ball, Barbara Galliher Morton appeared on the scene with her husband. She had been lost for a long time. Betty Zipf from Barrington, N.J. surprised us again. She is planning a trip to Egypt soon to use a degree she received in archeology. Shirley Cole Schleter and John will be going to Rome shortly and will try to contact Connie Froehler Sinozich. Shirley called Sudi Smith Granum in Md. after reunion and found out that she had broken her hip in Oct. but she is going to Europe with her daughter in June—wheelchair and all.

Peggy Rudacille Chapman of Suffolk, Rolin Coffman Willson from Highland Springs and Jean Scott Marks of Franklin dropped by. Others who attended whom I'll write about next time were: Mim Sollows Wieland, Ann Montgomery Hogg, Mike Charlton Shumate, Cathy Hilldrup Stanley, Nan Taylor Stockman, Ginny Felts Brown, Rachel Nickey Morgenthaler, Barbara Lloyd Hiller, Helen Chiles Mason, and Bev Hackett Runge.

51

Mrs. Anne Craig Rusmisell, 102 Woodland Lane, Beachwood, Hopewell, Va. 23860 (A-Z)

Leah Patterson Mannel has lived in Georgia for the past seven years. She and Bill love the South. Their daughter graduated Phi Betta Kappa from the UVa last May and their son begins pre-med at Duke U. this fall.

52

Mrs. Marian Davis Knight, 6540 Kirville Road #263, E. Syracuse, N.Y. 13057 (A-Z)

Jean Jones Thacker has been teaching in Amherst County since 1962. She has three sons and a new grandson.

The "Norfolk Compass" recently wrote an article on Anne Lee Ceglis and her collection of 2,000 dolls. She has turned her hobby into a doll museum, doll hospital and doll import business. She says that "Barbie" is the doll of the 20th century.

53

Mrs. Carol Ann Smith Boyes, 2214 Mcauliffe Drive, Rockville, Md. 20851 (A-Z)

Joan Foley is Sister Mary Kieran and is now living in West Pakistan.

We had a long letter from Marty Hoke Harris catching up on 25 years of time past. Marty and Thad have raised their three sons in such varied places as Libby, Red Lodge, and Helena, Montana, Tempe, Arizona and Houston, Texas. Then six years ago they found "home" in Sante Fe. Thad is teaching at the College of Sante Fe. Marty has kept up with her music and still has a few piano students as well as being Executive Secretary for the Sante Fe International Relations Council, handling arrangements for about 1,000 foreign visitors each year. They both belong to choral groups and Marty recently added a dulcimer to the instrumental family and a first grandchild to the human one.

I think we have a first! From Adele Crise Thomas word that daughter Amy will follow in father Buz's footsteps and start her Naval career as a Phebe this fall. "Punky" and I hope to have a micro-mini meeting in Atlanta in a few weeks.

From the missing person department it's fun to report a note from Helen Reynolds Crews. Still living in Miramar, Fla. Daughter Peggy is an R.N. living in Germany with her Army husband.

The time has come to pass your news along to another. It may seem a long way off, but 1983 will be our 30th and Carol Smith Boyes and Garnett Bell Crawford will take over to prepare for that event—please help them make it a great one... Thank you—Janet

54

Lucy Redman Munger and Bruce enjoyed being back on the MWC campus last Homecoming. Son Bruce is in grad school, Connie is a senior at Mt. Holyoke, and Pamela is a senior in high school. Lucy operates and teaches pre-school and loves it.

Dr. Jean M. Armstrong has been named Dean of Students at Montclair State College in New Jersey. Jean has had wide experience in administering counseling, testing and advising services for individual students and student groups. She previously taught at Vassar College and Hunter College and has published poetry in small magazines. She left her post as associate dean of student affairs at Rutgers to assume her new duties as dean.

55

Miss Irene Hughes, Box 235, Arrington, Va. 22922 (A-Z)

The alumni office wishes to thank Carole Kolton Bryson and her husband for making the reunion of the class of '55 so enjoyable. It was a double 25th celebration, for it was the Bryson's wedding anniversary. Irene Hughes is taking over Carole's job and will solicite a few classmates to assist her. Thank you so much for all the help. (Ed.)

Ann Strickler Doumas and husband, Bill, are now on assignment with Dow Chemical in Japan. Son Mark works for IBM in Arizona; Jenny, is a pre-med student at the U. of Texas, and Beth goes to International School. Ann recently met Michi Yokogama Hotta in Japan. Michi's son, Mark, who is a student at MIT, and younger son, Kim, are both life guards at the Tokyo American Club.

56

Mrs. Kay P. Saine Nuckols, 22228 Boca Rancho Dr., #A, Boca Raton, Fl. 33433 (A-F)

Mrs. Catherine Pizzutti Petraiuolo, 96 Colony Road, New Haven, Ct. 06511 (G-Z)

Jean T. Smith is director of the Chesterfield-Colonial Heights Department of Social Services. She began working there as a child welfare worker in 1956.

57

Miss Barbara S. Zimmer, 1901 Wyoming Ave., N.W., #61, Washington, D.C. 20009 (A-Z)

3 Evelyn Nitti Ewald is enjoying life in Paris for the past two years. Husband Joe represents his company's European interests. Both daughters attend Marymount School. They travel every chance they get, and they have taken up skiing in Switzerland.

58

Mrs. Judith Martin Faris, Route 5, Box 3-A, Amherst, Va. 24521 (A-C)

Mrs. Barbara E. Shann Greenleaf, 2300 Brookwood Rd., Richmond, Va. 23235 (D-G)

Mrs. Elaine Downing Hawpe, Rt. 1, Box 140C, Greenwood, De. 19950 (M-R)

Mrs. Althea Ash Prins, 7643 Clifton Rd., Fairfax Station, Va. 22039 (H-L)

Mrs. Lucinda West Whiteford, 810 Chulmleigh Rd., Baltimore, Md. 21212 (S-Z)

Mary Moyer Newhard is working part time as a registered medical technologist. She is taking several chem courses to update her major. She and Henry have 2 children. Mary saw Nancy Doner Salmon last summer. She has two children, ages 11 and 16. Irene Piscopo Rodgers is doing a lot of traveling. GeorgeAnne Tunison Andrews is living in Bethlehem with her parents. Jill Edwards Rust is also living in Bethlehem, Pa.

59

Mrs. Edna E. Gooch Trudeau, 6041 Stonewall Parkway #202, Mechanicsville, Va. 23111 (A-Z)

Dr. Lula Elizabeth Griffin is a professor of history at Bluefield College, Va. She has been selected to participate in the Middle East Faculty Development Seminar sponsored by the Middle East Studies Association at the U. of Chicago.

Long letter from Kitten Swaffin Howard! She knew the whereabouts of Jackie Wingfield Hoyle and Jim, and sons, Scott and Jeff. They are in Anderson, S.C. The Howards consider Houston the almost perfect place to live, for them. Son, John, is college hunting so recent weekends find them on the road. Sarah is on the basketball team and involved in anything musical or dramatic. John is also working and saving toward a trip to England this summer as part of an invitational soccer team. Since Kitten's Dad is English and many family members are still there, the Howards are very excited. John is Sr. Vice-Pres. at Houston National Bank, in charge of the Corporate Trust Division. Kitten is employed as the business manager for a plastic surgeon.

Speaking of trips, Pug Shipman Kaufman and family are still talking about Hawaii! Alan and Jeff hit almost every golf course. Tammie and Pug learned to snorkel and Julie soaked up the sun. Jeff is on his way to LSU via several golf tournaments. He represented Alabama in Tacoma, Wash., in June in a national prep tournament and also played two biggies in Austin, Texas. Tammie plans to spend five weeks of the summer in camp in NC. Her new interest is softball. Julie was chosen as a school hostess so will have a busy senior year next year. She is still undecided about college. Pug has retired from the Girl Scouts but will be an assoc. rep. next year. Alan opened his D.C. shop this summer. Pug said she heard Ann Rodabaugh Wright's second son heads for West Point next year.

Postcard from Carmen Culpeper Chappell from Acapulco. Having a great time and "...drinking every margarita in sight." She plans a visit with "Dodie" Reeder Hruby in May. Magnificent letter from Fay Jessup Young! Now we know why she didn't make it to the 20th. She broke her coxis bone and didn't go anywhere for a month. Fay's oldest son, Allyn is 16 and will be a senior this fall. Keith is 14 and will be a soph. Both boys help Avery work the farm. Ian is 11. Fay enjoys being surrounded by the opposite sex, especially since they are all good guys. Avery stays very busy with the farm. As of this writing they were praying for rain for their 250 acres of potatoes because the irrigation motors were on 24 hrs. a day. Avery does find time to play tennis once a week and Fay manages three days a week. She teaches art three days a week at the local elementary school, finally completed her masters degree and spends her spare time sunning, swimming and sitting. Ann Brooks Papadatos and Nick had some time by themselves this summer with both children away. Anastasia spent two weeks in Memphis visiting friends. Gregory is working aboard a Greek cargo ship for the summer, along with a cousin who is a crew member. The Captain is Nick's brother! What a wonderful experience! Ann and Anastasia plan a visit to MWC in July or August. It is on her list of possibilities for college.

Slim news again. So don't forget to jot a line or two on a Xmas card. Hope everyone is having a grand summer. Edna Edith Sheppard Ott is now a licensed clinical psychologist in Va. She is an assistant professor at the U. of Richmond. Heather and Meredith are both students at UNC-Chapel Hill and Matthew is at St. Christopher's. Husband, Matt is practicing law.

60

Mrs. Lynn Murphy Mailloux, 706 A Street., S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003 (A-Z)

The Alumni Office wishes to thank Jan Rutan Wright for the editing and typing of reunion booklet for the class of 1960. Without her dedication to MWC the reunion for the class would not have been complete. The new agents for the class are Lynn Murphy Mailloux, Pat Garvin Dyke and Jan Rutan Wright. Please write with any news you want to share with your class mates. Thanks! (Ed.)

Joanne C. Close is the Equal Employment Opportunity Officer for the Galveston District Corps. of Engineers. She earned her MS in Personnel Counseling in '73 and is currently working on a second degree in Human Resources Management at the U. of Houston. Husband, Ralph, is looking forward to retirement from the USMC in 1981. They have three children.

61

Mrs. Clara S. Durden Ashley, 9809 Beach Mill Road., Great Falls, Va. 22066 (A-I)

Mrs. Elizabeth Marchant Eldridge, 2029 Golf Course Drive, Reston, Va. 22091 (J-R)

Miss Lynn Cowan McCarthy, 950 Tierra Linda Dr., 7, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 (S-Z)

By now, y'all have received your questionnaires for use in compiling our reunion booklet. If you haven't completed your form, please take a few minutes to fill it out and return to the Alumni Association. We really need your help to make this a big success (besides, we're curious about YOU!). April 11, '81 weekend is our 20th, so mark it on your calendar and plan to come. From what I see in the stores, we'll be right in style. Remember?

"Tweedy, tweedy, tweedy dee
We're as tweedy as can be.
Crewneck sweaters, shoes and socks,
We're the class that really rocks!"

Bolts from the blue are happy things. Sarah Leigh Kinberg was in the Bluegrass in July. Ebie Breeden McKnight '58, and I joined Sarah and her sister, Margaret (pediatrician in Lexington), for dinner and a long visit. Mother had a cornea transplant and is progressing well. I found myself consumed with managing a house, yard and other affairs, so didn't even get to the beach as much as usual. While home, I found myself abruptly in the ranks of the Kentucky "Laid-off" social work administrators and support staff after 15 years with the state. After recovering from the initial shock, I found being unemployed marvelous! Such luxury—sleeping late, swimming everyday, puttering in the garden, and having a gigantic yard sale.

Judi Early Toxie wrote that she spent 6 weeks this summer in a bi-cultural Spanish program in Guadalajara, Mexico. She returned just in time to reap the harvest of her garden and to assume a new job as head of the English Department in a Silver Springs, Md., jr. high school. Judi has been trying to get a rise out of her roomie, Betsy Ottley Taggart, but hasn't received any word from her.

Nancy Brooks Blevins has surfaced from Va. Beach with news. She and David have four—Laurie, Alison, Beth, and Clark. Nancy taught for ten years and is now enjoying being a homemaker and running after Clark! Laurie enters Va. Tech this fall. Nancy said she talks with Jane Hoffman and Nancy Woolfolk Agee from time to time, and enjoys keeping up with Sandy Walters Julifs.

Louise Couch Girvin '62, who with husband, John, and 3 children live in Lexington, called in March while working in the Minority Caucus' Office during the General Assembly.

See y'all April 11, 1981! Lynn

Betty Marchant Eldridge is being remarried in the fall and will be busy adding 3 children to her own family of 3 and building on to a new home.

Clara Sue Ashley will be the new co-class agent and will work with Lynn McCarthy on the reunion. Lynn will compile the booklet and Clara Sue will attend the September Leadership Conference to start plans for Homecoming.

62

Mrs. Margaret Walker MacAllister, 12210 Captains Court, Woodbridge, Va. 22192 (H-N)

Mrs. Louise Dunn Nelson, 605 Vanderbkr Rd., Tampa, Fl. 33617 (O-Z)

Mrs. Patricia Mackey Taylor, 351 Level Green Court, Hampton, Va. 23669 (A-G)

Linda Ropertz Knebel had a brief visit with Patricia Harper Morrison and her husband, Glenn. Marcia Kirstein Fitzmaurice is living in Dallas and is helping Mary Carson, director of alumni affairs, gather the MWC alumni living in the area together for a brunch on September 28.

63

Mrs. Barbara Prall Granger, 565 Orchard Road, Southern Pines, N.C. 28387 (A-Z)

Barbara Moore Wheeler, Jim and 3 sons have moved to the Charlotte, N.C. area. Mom keeps busy with all of the boys' sporting events. Betsy Lydle Smith writes that they are enjoying the Pacific Northwest. So far the ash from Mt. St. Helens has missed the Seattle area. She is working as a coordinator for a Japanesse student cultural exchange program for the summer. She and Pete have 2 daughters.

64

Mrs. Linda G. Rudd Davis, 22 South Main St., Newtown, Ct. 06470 (A-I)

Mrs. Barbara Kellam Latham, 18 North Hills Drive, Parkersburg, W.V. 26101 (J-R)

Mrs. Sharon Haythorne Stack, 35 Old Wormly Creek Road, Yorktown, Va. 23692 (S-Z)

Betty Gregory Wickersham and Gordon have a new addition to their family; Alex is now their third son. They are living in Bakersfield, Ca. Peggy Morgan Tarr and Betsy Churchman Geary and their families vacationed together at Hilton Head this summer. Peggy Mitchell Bliss and family are living in Farmington, Ct. where she is a media specialist at the Greater Hartford Community College.

Susan Armistead Evagelion is teaching third grade in Ct. Husband, Harry, is a data processing manager. They have two sons. Susan is taking ballet at the School of the Hartford Ballet Co. Judy Bailey Givens lives in Denver with Gary and 3 children. Margaret Rae Salley and Jack are in Wilminton, Del. They too, have 3 children.

Linda Jones Peterson and husband Fred live in Chappague, N.Y. They have 2 boys and a girl. Carol Major Smith and family are living in Sharps, Va. Linda Reading Pullen and Barry have 2 children and are living in Ind. Susan Turner Weaver and Scott are living in Costa Mesa, Ca. Janet Bagg Freisenbruch and family are in Naples, Fla. Susie Cooper Cook and Rick have 3 children and are living in Macon, Ga. Ann Ergenbreirt Mathes and Ed are in New Orleans. They have 2 daughters. Dottie McDowell Smith and family were transferred by the Navy from Washington to Florida. Breeze Wood Stewart writes that she and husband Charlie are busy building their successful Amway business. They have 3 sons.

Linda Rudd Davis and family are moving back to Ct. Husband, Peter, has been transferred by Burroughs Corp. Linda hopes to get together with at least 10 classmates who are living in the same area. Their son, Benjamin, is attending the American Boychoir School in Princeton, N.J. Daughter, Jean, is a junior in high school.

A small part of the Class of '64 was traveling in the same direction this spring.

Barbara Howe Lewis, Betsy Moseley Garrard, and I met at the Annual Conference of the Association of Junior Leagues in Toronto, Canada. Barbara is living in Montclair, N.J., where she is very active in her community. Betsy reported that her Dad had invested a Flow Control for shower heads and when MWC contacted the manufacturer for a price quote he donated 400 of the devices to the college. Betsy says MWC students are not wasting water these days.

We also met Nancy Kemper Prillaman '65, who lives in Roanoke, with her husband Alton "Prill", an attorney and their three children. She is active in church and school activities and is vice-president of the Junior League of Roanoke Valley, Virginia. Nancy was able to tell me about Carol Morris Edwards and Linda Benner Ellis who both live in the Roanoke area. Carol is an active community volunteer and the wife of Lacy Edwards. Linda has three children who keep her busy.

This was my last trip for 1980 so will have to rely on letters to fill the next column. Please reply to my post cards to we can build a network of news by 1984! Barbara Kellam Latham

65

Mrs. Patricia C. Boyette Robinson, 22 Oak Place, Bernardsville, N.J. 07924 (A-Z)

The Alumni Office wishes to thank Patricia Boyette Robinson and her mother for the compiling, editing and typing of the reunion booklet for the class of '65. Pat would like to find a replacement for her as class agent or even a helper. Please contact her or the alulmni office if you are willing to help.

Louise Guijarro Haas stopped by the alumni office upon her return from a 6-month teaching job in Scotland. Her husband is busy building a passive solar log cabin in Port Angeles, Washington. Phyllis Cavedo Weisser recently attended an organizational meeting for the re-establishment of a MWC Atlanta Chapter. She thoroughly enjoyed exchanging information on memories of the rules. She says that today's students must be much more sophisticated than they were in the 60's—but she bets they didn't have as much fun!

Barbara Hagemann Hester writes that they unexpectedly expanded their family last year. They now have 3 girls and 1 boy. One of the children's teachers last year was a MWC alum, Lyle Folkes. Barbara enjoyed a visit with Beverly Boudreau Kleiber when she, and her husband, came to town for a doctor's convention. Bev and George have 2 children. Meg Cobourn John and Jimmy are now living in Fla. Lisa Corder Griffin and husband live in Del. Jim has a law practice. They have 2 children. Barbara is looking forward to meeting Donna Lingo Rauch and family this summer. Donna and family have moved back to Del. after being in Idaho for several years. They have 2 children.

66

Mrs. Linda Glynn Hutchinson, 52 Franklin Street, Welch, W.V. 24801 (A-M)

Mrs. Jana Privette Usry, 1512 Confederate Avenue, Richmond, Va. 23227 (N-Z)

Judith Clark had been named as Olin Hall Coordinator at Roanoke College. She is also director of the Preparatory Music Program. Judith received her M.A. from Northwestern U.

Greetings! Got a lengthy letter from Ambler Carter Kamp chock-full of class news. Jane Campbell Tamburr holds a very responsible administrative post with an artists' foundation in Sweet Briar, Va. Mary Morris Kameya, husband Larry, Ali, and Jonathan live in Cleveland Heights where both Kameyas are psychologists.

J. J. Charron Muhonen is still working with the Maryland Board of Education as a systems analyst. Husband Dan is with Goddard Space Flight Center. J. J. mentioned seeing Mary Boyd Turner '67 who has a 7-yr.-old son and works as a technical writer for a utility company in Atlanta.

Anyone interested in a wood burning stove? George and Joy Donahue Sharpe and their children have a booming business in Snow Camp, N.C. Along with this they also have a well established back-hoe business. Joy tells us that Marguerite ("Wetty") Wingo Saady has retired from teaching in the Richmond area to care for their newest son.

Brenda Lay Crawley has been doing geneological research at the National Archives and Library of Congress. Husband, Fred, is a Marine Major at Quantico.

Pam Kearney Berg, Steve, and son, Ken, are still living in Twin Falls, Idaho. Steve has an insurance agency. Pam is busy with the Cursillo movement and teaching aerobic dancing at the YWCA.

Three of our classmates had a West Chester, 48-hr. "mini-reunion" last fall. Ambler writes that Carolyn Kirkpatrick Fuhrmann was visiting from Vienna, Austria. Kirky worked for a year as secretary and interpreter for a Russian assigned to an international organization in Vienna. She enjoyed her job but resigned after the arrival of Johannes. Kirky's husband, Gerhard, is a Viennese lawyer and civil servant. They also have two daughters, Lee and Ambler. Nancy ("Howie") Thompson Mountjoy, another of the reunion group, has returned to full-time elementary teaching. Howie, Steve, Stuart and Cary reside in Mechanicsville. At the Ambler Carter Kamp camp, Ambler reports that she and children visited her family in Suffolk during the summer as well as husband Gary's folks in Michigan. Besides a part-time job as a community college library assistant, Ambler has been a full-time trainer of 28 mediators for a Dispute Settlement Plan for Chester County, Pa. This is a move to "neighborhood justice centers" for the settlement of interracial, familial, neighborhood and inter-generational disputes whereby the disputants come together voluntarily to devise the agreement themselves and seek the aid of mediators only in working out their differences.

News of Anne Powell Young is that she, Virgil, and children are in New Jersey where Virgil is a supervisor with the FBI.

Ginny Griffith Aldrich, Jim, and children have been transferred to the Naval Air Station in San Diego. Jim and Ginny spend much of their time at athletic events with their children. Ginny also mentioned a near future undertaking will be a California teaching certification.

Some of you may remember Suzanne Harman Hardy who spent her early college days with us and then graduated from University of Maryland. After acquiring a master's from VCU 5 years ago, Suzanne has become a member of the National Committee which plans Blue Cross/Blue Shield's advertising programs and is also Director of Public Information for BC/BS of Richmond. Outside her professional life, Suzanne has been a sponsor for a Vietnamese family involving the location of housing, clothing, furniture, food, jobs, etc. for them.

Congratulations to Ginny Bateman Brinkley who received a M.B.A. in June from University of North Florida. Ginny is employed at Florida Jr. College where she is the Co-ordinator of Childbirth Education. Ginny, husband LCDR J. William Brinkley, and sons Scott and Brett live in Atlantic Beach, Fl.

Midge Meredith Poyck and children, Elizabeth and Kevin have built a new home west of Fredericksburg. Along with a new home Midge has a new job as business manager of a firm in Fredericksburg. Previous to this Midge had spent 3 happy years employed by dear ol' MWC.

From the class of '65 Sally Anderson Gemmill and Bill have moved from Philadelphia to Norwalk, Ct. Bill is Director of Marketing for the Far East and South America for Helena Rubenstein.

That is about it for now. Keep your news coming! Sorry I missed all of you in recent news publications, but after the arrival of Morgan Suzanne last December I took a few months off to be busy mother for her as well as older sister Shannon who is 2. Now I am working with local arts and crafts activities and serving on the County Library Board.

Plans are being made for reunion activities on April 11th. Those of us who attended the last one can vouch for a great time and sore jaws. More information will follow. Please return any questionnaires sent to you so that our reunion booklet will be complete. Linda

67

Mrs. Martha L. Dabney Long, Box 23, Dahlgren, Va. 22448 (A-Z)

Fonda Davis Eyler completed work for her PhD in developmental psychology from the U. of Fla. Husband, John is an Associate Professor in Chemistry at U of Fla. Fonda is now an assistant in pediatrics at the U of Fla. Med. School. They have 2 children and plan on spending '80 & '81 in Washington, D.C. for Post-Doc. work.

Mary Haga Doermann and husband, Perry, welcomed their first child, Chrisian Edward last Dec. Barbara Fisher Shewbridge had been appointed staff manager at Philip Morris Co. in Richmond. Barbara will assist the director of administration in the administration of policies, procedures, and plans that affect the P/MIS department.

Polly Brill Hogshead and husband, Bruce, reached their 9 year goal to backpack the 2,025 mile Appalachian Trail. They reached Baxter Peak on Mt. Katahdin on June 11. This ended their 46-day, 625-mile hike from Tyringham, Ma.

68

Mrs. Cynthia Paradise Johnson, 3509 Beverly Dr., Annandale, Va. 22003 (A-C)

Mrs. Dale Saunders Nelson, 2412 Stuart Ave., Richmond, Va. 23220 (D-H)

Mrs. Kathryn Duffy Petty, 2218 Hallow Lane, Bowie, Md. 20716 (I-N)

Mrs. Kyra Krombein Walker, 524 S. Main St., Cambridge Springs, Pa. 16403 (T-Z)

Ms. Leneice Nellie Wu, 3810 Sleepy Hollow Rd., Falls Church, Va. 22041 (O-S)

Lawson Stillman Greenwood, past president of the Charlotte, N.C. MWC Chapter, has moved from Charlotte to Wilmington, N.C. She has been quite active with the publication of the new "Mary Washington Cookbook" scheduled for release this fall.

Kerry Duer Klein had her second child, John, in January. Cheryl Ragsdale Grissom graduated third in her class from T.C. Williams School of Law. Her husband is public relations director for the state attorney general's office in Richmond. Ellen Adkinson Williams writes that she would like to know how Tootie Bast, Barbara Baxter, Donna Jones, Barbara Lampl '66, and Deane Copty '65 are. She wants more news about the class of '68. Ellen has lived in the San Francisco Bay area for the past 7 years. Jim is a sales rep in the electronics industry, and daughter, Amy, is in the second grade. Ellen has just begun a new job as an apprentice to an interior designer. She attended a dinner in honor of MWC 2 years ago when Dr. Woodard and Mary Carson visited the West Coast. A. Jane Bradley has been selected as a White House Fellow for the 1980-81 year; 17 fellows were chosen from among 1,525 applicants. Jane has been a partner in the law firm of Cohen and Annand in Alexandria, Va. For the past 5 years she was a citizen member of the Alexandria Human Rights Commission. She also serves on the Virginia Citizens Consumer Council, a statewide consumer advocacy organization.

Sandra Jean Moore Frost and Ron have just had their first child, Bevan Bryce. Sandra has been involved in the League of Women Voters of Laramie, Wyoming. Last year, she created a slide show titled Uranium Mining and Milling for distribution around the state. The objective of the show was to educate communities about the impacts resulting from uranium mining growth in Wyoming.

69

Mrs. Linda E. Carson Currier, 2706 Coriander Place, Edgewater, Md. 21037 (A-M)

Mrs. Donna M. Cannon Julian, 104 Windward Road, Wilmington, De. 19807 (N-Z)

Yes, classmates, I still have a mailbox and a typewriter! My news is thin, but I hope this will get the ball rolling again; let me hear from you before Nov. 10th.

Katherine Caffee Gompf and family are moving to Richmond where Mike is with Va. Nat'l Bank. CeCe Smith Riffer moved to Charleston, S.C. last yar, Bill is still a submarine officer.

I was anticipating a visit from Carolyn Day O'Leary on her way north from her home in Miami, but a neck brace, thanks to a pinched nerve, changed their plans.' She has acquired an accounting degree.

Marianne DeBlois Zentz, I'm going to get together with you one of these days! My sister lives in Malvern, so I'm up near you in Exton, Pa. fairly often.

We have three daughters 7, 6 and 2, who keep me running with all the usual activities. Anyone passing through Delaware on I-95, give me a call and some news!—Donna

Kathleen Hill Marks and Charles had a new daughter, Elizabeth Preston born on Christmas Eve. Kathleen Rowan Brown and Stephen welcomed their second child, Lauren Robley last May. Linda Sargent Kaufman and husband, John had their first child, a daughter, Elizabeth Dorothy, last September. They are living in Roanoke where John is a practicing dermatologist. Carolyn Lee Klotz Lewis retired, after 9 years of medical office work to raise her first child, Aaron Christopher, born last April. Kent is employed by Frontier Airlines. They live in Scottsdale, Az., and are confirmed "desert rats."

Carole Findley Phipps writes that she is a systems analyst for Xerox Printing Systems and her husband is manager of the Prudential Group Claims Office. Her sister, Rebecca Findlay Farley '70 has just moved to Redlands, Ca. Her husband is in the Air Force and Becky is a freelance artist for Hallmark Cards. They have a son, 15 months old.

Evelyn "Evie" Rowe is now living in Washington off Dupont Circle. She works in the Department of Energy's Office of Alcohol Fuels, answering Congressional and White House inquires about the program. She plans to start law school in the fall.

Nancy Walton Whited married William Huntsberry, Jr. in June. She is working as a librarian in the Warren County Public Schools. Diane Prevary Kramer and Arnie have 3 children. Diane will attend Union Theological Seminary in Richmond in the fall and hopes to be ordined as a Presbyterian minister.

Karen Hersh Dubitsky was presented the Governor's Award for the Arts by Fla. Governor Bob Graham during a recent State Cabinet meeting in Tallahassee. Karen's honor came as a result of her work with the arts as Manager of Community Relations with Burger King Corp. Karen is married to Superior Court Judge Ira Dubitsky and has two daughters.

70

Mrs. Lucia L. Smithey Bushway, Box 631, Tazewell, Va. 24651 (A-C)

Mrs. Jane McKenzie Cutchins, 3901 Sulgrave Road, Richmond, Va. 23221 (K-M)

Mrs. Gabrielle Pagin Ficklin, 3312 Brandy Court, Falls Church, Va. 22042 (N-T)

Mrs. Elaine C. Wilson Maloney, 13023 Kingswell Drive, Woodbridge, Va. 22193 (U-Z)

Miss Pamela Ann Miller, 4949 Manitoba Drive 118, Alexandria, Va. 22312 (G-J)

Mrs. Sharon Arthur Spencer, 5720 San Gabriel, Pensacola, Fl. 32504 (D-F)

The Alumni Office wishes to thank Pam Miller and Elaine Wilson Maloney for editing and typing the reunion booklet for the class of 70. The same class agents were re-elected for the next five years. Edith Morrison Herron and Sherrill Hoofnagle Alexander will edit the next reunion book and Sandra Sayre Moll will serve as fund agent.

Rose Marie Hayes has moved from Norfolk to Baltimore, Md. Tricia Wililams Blow had a boy, Christopher Gerald on June 17th. Eva Maderspack Ring had her second child, Christopher Scott on June 17th. Linda Challain Stefansen and Skip welcomed identical twin daughters, Kjersten and Adriane, last November.

71

Mrs. Doris A. Lee Hancock, 9302 Cason Road, Glen Allen, Va. 23060 (M-P)

Lt. Karen A. Laino Lewis, 66 Vicar Lane, Levittown, Pa. 19054 (A-E)

Mrs. Sally K. Reichner Mayor, Route De Mt 3691 Randogne, Valais, Switzerland (F-L)

Mrs. Deborah Wiggins Seehorn, P. O. Box 1956, Farmington, N.M. 87401 (Q-Z)

Sharon Wallace Mercer is engaged to Rev. L. Rutledge Landers II. Sharon is studying gerontolgy at the U. of Ala. and working for the North Central Alabama Area Agency on Aging. Patricia L. Taylor has been named head of the reference service of Virginia State Library. She received her M.S. from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Mary Lee Tucker is a research assistant in the department of radiation at U.Va. She is also a part-time instructor in American Constitutional Government at Piedmont Virginia Community College in Charlottesville. Mary Lee is currently enrolled in the masters program in Higher Education Counseling.

Nancy Richardson Kenyon is now living in Wilmington, De. Husband is with duPont. They have 3 children and Nancy is active in PTA and car pools. While they lived in Ohio, she met with Carol Bergstedt Graeme. They matched rings and launched into the MWC song, complete with devil/goat business. Carol now lives in NJ and has one son. Donna Cannon Julian '68 has 3 daughters. Terri Moore Haines '69 lives in Wilmington and has 1 daughter. Dodi Driscoll '72 visited with Nancy last summer. She is working on her masters in physical therapy at MCV. Cathy Fletcher Foster is moving to D.C. Husband, Steve, is in the USMC. They have 2 children. Her sister, Anne Fletcher Sentz '73 has twin boys. Her husband has his dental practice in Warrenton, Va. Chris Sullivan Jones and doctor husband, Jesse are due to leave the Navy. They are hoping to settle in the South. They have 2 sons.

Since my last column I resigned my commission in the Marine Corps, and my husband and I moved aboard our sailboat for one year. We've been traveling the east coast of the United States with plans to head for the Bahamas. We spent the holidays in Hilton Head, S.C., waiting for some parts for our boat to arrive so we could continue.

While in Yuma, Arizona last spring, I traveled to southern California and was able to visit some MWC friends. Liz Keith and I had lunch together in LaJolla. She has since moved back to D.C. where she does consulting work in social services.

While anchored in Annapolis, Evelyn DeZerne Barrett and her husband Larry came to visit. She had just recently returned to work after the birth Believe it or not, Sylvia Schwab Marr is known as a conservative among her colleagues "on the hill." Some of you may remember Sylvia in German class arguing the Vietnam War with me. She now works as an administrative aid to Congressman Tom Bevell of Alabama. I guess some political fence-jumping is warranted after 13 years.

The Marine Corps keeps Kathy Lewis Newbold busy. She was recently reassigned from Camp Lejeune, N.C., to HOMC in Washington, D.C. At Lejeune, Kathy was the Base Personnel Officer and in her spare time participated in some local running mini-marathons. Captain Ruthanna Mcbride '72 tied the knot with the infamous Major "wild" Bill Moore after meeting in Okinawa. Ruthanna is attending the Amphibious Warfare School in Quantico.

I heard that Terry Tucker now works for T.H. Mandy Sportswear. Nancy Macallister is working as a hematologist in Columbus, Ohio. Where is everyone else? Our column seems to get shorter and shorter as the years go by. Our tenth reunion is fast approaching so lets start thinking about getting everyone together for that one. In the meantime, I'd like to hear from all of you.

Karen

72

Mrs. Helen G. Ferguson Daniel, 8000 University Drive, Richmond, Va. 23229 (A-H)

Miss Brenda Jean Franklin, 20415-34th Place S., #J204, Seattle, Wa. 98188 (I-Z)

Terrell Hall Alford and family have been transferred by the Navy to Orange Park, Fla. Frances Hichsen is now working on her master's in Latin at UNC-Chapel Hill. Vicky Silek Hunt has moved from Va., to Burlington, N.C. Patricia McQueen is a compliance officer attached to the Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Veterinary Medicine in Rockville, Md. She is currently enrolled in GWU in an attempt to obtain a masters in administration. She would like to hear from her old friends.

73

Mrs. Susan Jacobius Davis, 9601 N. Verlinda Court, Richmond, Va. 23234 (A-M)

Miss Deborah S. Heiman, 2454 Glengyle, Vienna, Va. 22180 (N-Z)

Kathryn Millillo is publications associate at Mount Holyoke College. She graduated Cum Laude in English from Clark University. Burrell Montz married Paul Covey last August. They are living in Binghamton, N.Y., where Burrell is teaching environmental studies and geography at the State University of New York and Paul is operations manager at SUNY.

The alumni office wishes to apologize to Beverly Rawlings for reporting that she was in a serious car accident. Beverly is in perfect health and was recently awarded a third place award for her work with the Mental Health Association. More news to follow on Bev as soon as we receive more info.

74

Miss Jill Katherine R. Hadden, General Delivery, Tahoe Valley State, So. Lake Tahoe, Ca. 95731 (A-M)

Mrs. Kathleen E. Shaw Janoff, 84 N. Country Rd., Apt. 6A, Port Jefferson, N.Y. 11777 (N-Z)

Marcia Vogler Harris is employed as the director of medical record services at the Seattle Public Health Service Hospital. Husband Tom is an attorney. Julie Mills White went to Maine and attended Marcia's wedding. Julie is now living in Michigan.

Susan Behling is working as a supervisor for the compliance section of the Health Contracts Services Unit at the Hartford Insurance Group in Hartford, Ct. She has heard that Patsy Jacobs Kadel and husband, Paul, are expecting their first child.

From Katherine R. Hadden

Jill Hadden sends word that Lake Tahoe is just gorgeous this time of year. Patricia Kay Barnett recently moved from the Big Apple to Minn. Pat is in the insurance underwriting business. Norah Heckman spent the last few years in Pasadena and New Orleans. She has just moved back to Va. Jill urges everyone to vote in November and to write to her with your class news.

75

Miss Janice E. Anderson, 5915 Mayflower Court #303, Alexandria, Va. 22312 (A-Z)

The alumni office wishes to thank Carol Pappas Bartold, Judy Saul Kraft, Val Walters, and Karen Johnson Williams for serving as class agents for the last five years. Without their dedicated help and support the reunion booklet for the class of '75 would not have been completed. Your new class agents are Janice E. Anderson, Patricia Harriett Powers, Jacqueline Sobinski Smith, April Tooke.

Neva Jane Roark graduated from the Eastern Virginia Medical School in 1978. Linda Roland Mattix spent the summer working with the Charlotte Historic District Commission. Steve is an electrical engineer with Duke Power Co. Linda is publicity chairman for the AAUW, a member of the Charlotte Flute Assoc., and is active with a liturgical dance group. Jan Pace Telle is working as a news reporter for "The Valdosta Daily Times." Her husband, Ted, is a sales rep for Michelin Tire Corp. Rebecca Day is now living in St. Thomas, USVI. Dianne Ferree writes that several graduates of MWC are teaching at Caroline High School with her: Faith Moss Prescott, Jerri Summerlin Schleigh, and Susan Robinson. Susan is expecting her first child in the fall.

76

Mrs. Judith P. Nutter Amberly, 704 W. 21st St., Wilmington, De. 19802 (O-T)

Miss Mary Catherine Carroll, 123 Fifteenth Ave.., N., St. Petersburg, Fl. 33704 (D-F)

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Clifford, 528 A-8th St., N.E., Charlottesville, Va. 22901 (U-W)

Ms. Elizabeth Anne Gupton, 7 South Dooley Ave., Richmond, Va. 23221 (G-J)

Miss Deborah Ann Jackson, 2510 Colebrook Drive, Hillcrest Heights, Md. 20031 (K-N)

Ms. Hannah Elizabeth Patterson, 2512 Stuart Avenue, Richmond, Va. 23220 (X-Z)

Mrs. Patricia J. Anderson Williams, 2608 Sunnybrook Road, Richmond, Va. 23229 (A-C)

Judy Martens received her BSN last Dec. She is now a staff nurse at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, Tx. She works in the emergency room and is happy in her new career. Deborah E. Holland is now a student at Eastern Virginia Medical School. Patty Buckley and Don Woltheis '77 were married in September. Don finished law school at William and Mary this past spring. Pam Brookes and Emmett Snead were married in August. The couple have a home in Fredericksburg. Margo Clifford is attending graduate school at U.Va. She is working on her master's in education, specializing in learning disabilities.

77

Miss Darlene Louise Calandra, 2035 N. Woodrow St., Arlington, Va. 22207 (T-U)

Mrs. Laura Ewers Cline, 1108 James Madison Circle, Falmouth, Va. 22401 (V-W)

Mrs. Theresa R. Young Crawley, 5925 Grammarcy Circle, Richmond, Va. 23227 (K-L)

Mrs. Anne S. Robinson Hallerman, 403-F N. Hamilton Street, Richmond, Va. 23221 (X-Z)

Mrs. Debra L. Jordon Lewis, 111-6 Ivy Drive, Charlottesville, Va. 22901 (I-J)

Ms. Julie Margaret Mansfield, 1075 S. Jefferson St., #421, Arlington, Va. 22204 (R-S)

Miss Teri Craig Miles, 1511 Regency Woods Road #302, Richmond, Va. 23233 (M-N)

Miss Janet S. Pulliam, 10242 Stratford Avenue, Fairfax, Va. 22030 (A-B)

Mrs. Roganna M. Howard Rollins, 6000 Loriella Park Drive, Fredericksburg, Va. 22401 (G-H)

Ms. Kathleen B. Williams, 604 N. Wakefield Street, Arlington, Va. 22203 (C-D)

Mrs. Emily D. Alfriend Wilson, Route 1, Box 31D, Luray, Va. 22835 (E-F)

Mrs. Theresa Tillapaugh Wirman, 2 Steeple Chase Road, Fredericksburg, Va. 22401 (O-Q)

Linda Constantine Butler and Stan are expecting a baby this summer. Susan Reed May was married last September. She and Tom are living in Manassas. Barbara Clark Riegel had a baby girl born last May. The family is living in Dewitt, N.Y. Alison Stern married G. Vincent Wood IV last May. After a honeymoon cruise to Bermuda, they are living in Wilmington, De. Lisa Lyle was in St. Croix, V.I. for the summer doing research in marine biology for grad school. Jody Nutter Amberly and husband, Vince, are the new parents of a baby boy born in June. Mary Ann Curtis took leave of absence from her job as a paralegal in D.C. to go on a cross country trip this summer.

Penelope Williamson Cottrell quit her job with Blue Shield of Washington, D.C. to stay home with her new baby boy born last March. They are also renovating their home in Alexandria. Penelope writes that her old roommate, Jacquie Hopkins, was married to Wayne Wilson last summer and both are studying at Purdue University.

Barbara Jean Watson Stewman and husband Dean are in Pensacola, Florida where he is teaching at the Naval Air Station and she is in graduate school at U of West Florida.

Laura Ann Ewers Cline and husband, Bernie, are the proud parents of a baby girl, Angela Elizabeth, born in April.

78

Ms. Deborah Anne Carroll, 4121 Meadowgreen Court, Richmond, Va. 23229 (V-Z)

Miss Lynn Susan Connor, 5002 Brandywine Drive, Apt. 11, Indianapolis, In. 46241 (J-L)

Miss Cynthia A. Drury, 4835 W. Braddock Road, #103, Alexandria, Va. 22304 (H-I)

Mrs. Kathleen Smith Evans, 3020 Kenbury Road, Richmond, Va. 23235 (C)

Miss Vicki Paula Fotopoulos, 11213 Hunt Club Drive, Potomac, Md. 20854 (D-F)

Ms. Leslie Goodwyn, 3200 Fernandina Road, Columbia, S.C. 29210 (S-U)

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Somerville Hutchins, 3031 Redbud Street, Apt. #4, Culpeper, Va. 22701 (N-R)

Miss Kathleen Patricia Mayer, 9305 Sibelius Drive, Vienna, Va. 22180 (M)

Miss Margaret Ann McClurkin, 618 King Street, Columbia, S.C. 29205 (A-B)

Ms. Marnie Lee Snyder, 4010 64th St., Bethesda, Md. 20016 (G)

Lucy Eppes is working with a travel agency in Arlington, Va. She heard that Demetria Smith '78 is engaged and that Penny Firth was married in June. Ann Conway married Tim Winston in June and they are now living in Richmond. Tim is a carpentry apprentice. Joanne Smith and Gail Story Easley attended Ann's wedding.

David Wayne Dawson married Shady Marie Dunford last May. David is working for IBM in Manassas. Susan Cody Dane is teaching vocal music in Harbor Beach, Mi. She and husband David are involved with the local community theatre group. Susan played Eliza Doolittle to her husband's Colonel Pickering in "My Fair Lady." Jean Alexander is still climbing smokestacks in Ca. She wants to get a group of MWC'ers together in Ca. Meredith Ann Schade had just begun medical school at U.Va. She writes that she has missed MWC and the good friends she made while school.

Katherine Pritchard Napier and husband, Ron spent the summer in Hawaii. Ron worked for a law firm doing a summer clerkship. Kathy is on leave of absence from her job as research lab tech in Charlottesville. Ron has one more year of law school. Kathy served on the Regional Scholarship Selection Committee for the 7th District and said that it was a very rewarding experience.

Anne Meaney spent last summer in Brazil doing research for her Master's thesis. She is beginning her Ph.D. program in Sept. in economic development. She was married in August to Bob Leckie of Calgary, Canada. He is doing grad studies in solar energy. Anne saw Rae Armstrong '77 in Ca. She is teaching school in Dana Pt., and loves it.

Robin Campbell is living in Columbia, Md and working for the federal government. Deby Cox Bigdely was working as the director of the Geriatric Day Treatment Program with the Rockbridge Mental Health Clinic in Lexington, Va. She and husband, Farhad are moving to Richmond.

I enjoyed all your cards and letters and appreciated the time you took to write me. I was married to Randy Evans in '78. We've been living here in San Antonio, Tx., while Randy finished his Master's degree in clinical psychology. During the past two years I have been working at the University of Texas Health Science Center doing research in the field of Neuroendocrinology. Randy was just accepted into a PhD program in San Diego, California.

Bill Christie had all kinds of good news in his letter. Kathy Beecher '78 married Mike Ingrao and is living in Springfield, Va. Kathy has been a mortgage loan originator and is possibly an insurance broker now. Hilary Hammond '78 married Mike Bikowski and is living in Arlington, Va. Hilary works for the Federal government in D.C. Lisa Barthello '78 and Nancy Jo McDaniel '78 are sharing an apartment in old town Alexandria. Lisa is a loan processor for a mortage company and Nancy Jo is a lawyer's aide in Georgetown.

Bill married Liz Manger '77 and they are expecting a baby in Dec. Bill is still working on environmental related research and consulting. He is now enrolled in GWU master's program in environmental science.

Colleen Main '79 is at Meloy Labs in Springfield, Va. Skib Skibinski '79 is now working at Georgetown Hospital in D.C. Mike Mcguire '79 has been working in construction. Rick Graham '79 has been building houses while trying to get into optometry school. Kathy LaSala '79 is now in San Franciso, Ca., working with N.I.H. and Bobby Golden '79 is teaching high school science in Northern Va.

Amy Kraftt '77 is a full-time biology grad student at Catholic University. Julie Mansfield '77 was married last summer. Myra Fleenor has been running a mobil health lab unit and recently has been promoted to a regional director position.

Ginna Holland Cochran '78 is working in the "Special accounts" department of a Savings and Loan in Burke, Va. Her husband works as a geologist for a consulting firm. Amy Sturgis '78 has married and is living in the Newport News area with her husband Chris. Amy has a teaching job which she loves. Karen Taylor '78 has also married and is living in Florida.

Happy Clark '78 is moving to San Francisco in October. Sue Murphy '78 will be married on September 27th and will be honeymooning in Europe. Kathy Mayer '78 is still working for an architectural firm in D.C. Leslie Goodwyn '78 is living in Columbia, S.C., working for a photography firm. Cindy Reeves '78 was married in June and is living in Annapolis, Md.

Linda Church Knapp '78 has been working as a computer aide with the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D.C. Two months ago she was married to Cpt. George C. Knapp, Jr. Linda and George are presently living at Camp Casey, Korea and will return in May '81.

Linda Capaldi Bagnal '78 worked for the Southern Baptist Convention, Home Mission Board from graduation til March 1980. On March 25th Linda gave birth to her first child, Katherine Louise. In June, Linda and her husband moved to New Hartford, Connecticut and her husband took a postgraduate position in Windsor.

Deborah Cox '78 and Patty Geiling '79, were both married last June. Linda visited Cheri Johnston in Norfolk last month and says she is doing well and working for United Virginia Bank.

Kathy

Toni Showalter, Mirna Fleenor, Zoe Fries, Christine Resele-Fiden '79, Shelley Roberts '79, and Anne Roulet Ferguson were at Linda Stango's and Michael Paquette's wedding. Zoe recently accepted a position with a law firm in Houston, Texas. Christine is working in research at Rockefeller University in New York City. Shelley is working as a research assistant at Yale Medical School and Anne is working toward her R.N. and living in Boston with her husband Ferg.

Toni Showalter and I have just opened our own pottery studio in New York. We've entered several art shows in New York and Long Island and we're enjoying our new-found success.

Linda Stango Paquette

Kathy King recently married Joe Wirtala. Kathy and Joe have made their home in Fredericksburg. Celebrating their wedding were: Debi Robinson who is currently completing her master's in NYC., Robyn Reed, who has just returned from a whirlwind vacation in Mexico, Jeanette Smith who is currently teaching dance in the Washington, D.C. area, and Susan Haas who has just accepted a new job with the Department of Defense.

79

Miss Cynthia Gail Anderson, 2608 Sunnybrook Road, Richmond, Va. 23229 (C)

Miss Bonnie Barr Berry, 2332 Shellfish Court, Richmond, Va. 23229 (H)

Miss Debra Jean Byrne, 120 Barkley Park, Apt. 88, Fredericksburg, Va. 22401 (R)

Miss Mary Catherine Dodrill, 718 PGH MCKPT Blvd., Drovosburg, Pa. 15034 (O-Q)

Ms. Barbara I. Goliash, 1200 So. Washington Street, #302 , Alexandria, Va. 22314 (E-G)

Ms. Theresa Marie Mason, 7953-K Sunshine Court, Glen Burnie, Md. 21061 (D)

Miss Leslie Susan Mayer, 1014 Cabaniss Hall, MCVVCU, Richmond, Va. 23298 (I-L)

Ms. Susan M. Moore, 8341 Bound Brook Lane, Alexandria, Va. 22309 (M-N)

Mrs. Jennifer A. Boyd Ross, 11206 Ocean Drive, NAS, Corpus Christi, Tx. 78419 (A-B)

Miss Karen Ann Sobieski, 2201 Cowan Blvd., #40-D, Fredericksburg, Va. 22401 (S)

Miss Shirley Whiteside, 2011 Rainey Drive, Mechanicsville, Va. 23111 (T-Z)

Anne Green Shumate married Charles Lewis Williams on August 9. He will attend the UNC school of law this fall. Nanci Lynne Crooks married Mason Ward Child in July. Mason is employed by HBH as a purchasing agent in Saudi Arabia. Mary will join him at a later date. Wendy Sue Chilton married Thomas Everett Layton in June. Wendy is a systems analyst with DuPont in Parkersburg. Paul W. Rinne is engaged to Andrea Jean Bourland '81. Paul is a medical student at the Medical College of Virginia.

Amee Carmines is doing grad work at Cornell U. and recently received a teaching fellowship. Cyndi Goforth is teaching English at Colonial Heights HS. She is sponsor of the school newspaper. Mercy Sais is teaching English at James Monroe HS in Fredericksburg. Ruth Spivey is working in Colonial Williamsburg as a sales-interpreter at the Silversmith-Jeweler's. Shawn Fannin Modl and her husband, Hans, are expecting their first child in October.

Marla Lane Vass Matera was married on July 12th. Lisa Rauch Walsh and Steven were married at the Naval Academy Chapel last June. Mary Packard and Karen Peters Fritsch were bridesmaids. They are moving to Jacksonville, N.C. where Lisa plans to pursue her interest in banking and plant a huge garden. Sharon Donnelly, Karen Zepf Filkins, Noreen Grimes, and Martha Vaughn attended the wedding. Lisa and Steve spent their honeymoon in Germany and England.

Quite a few MWC alumni were on hand for Mary McWhirt's marriage to Michael Murphy on June 22. After a honeymoon in Cape Code, they settled down in the Fredericksburg area. Guests at the wedding included Judy Kemp and her finance; they plan to marry in October 1980. Also there—Sue Moore, Caroline Corr, Sallie Smith and Sally Hart, who has been interning in the city planner's office this past summer in Williamsburg. Jeannie Weller was a bridesmaid and will be attending UVa for grad school in archeology in the fall. Gayle Weinberger was also there and said that she will be moving to the Northern Virginia area even though she will continue teaching in Stafford. That night at a party I gave for MWC'ers, Cyn Anderson, who has become a radio personality in Warrenton (WQRA), came, in addition to the infamous M. McGuire and his sidekick Rickey Graham. Those wild "Hamsters" Skib Skibinski and Patrick Everett also showed up. Patrick complained that his name has not appeared in MWC Today yet so I want everyone to know that he is working for C & P in D.C. and living on Conn. Ave.! Leslie Freeman informed me that she is working for the U.S. Geological Survey in D.C. However she will be moving to Denton, Texas to begin grad school in environmental science at N. Texas State U. and finish up at Texas A & M. And last but not least, Betsy Larson tells me that she is working for Western Union as a cost analyst.

Barbara

One year has flown by since we grabbed our diplomas and plunged into a world of mystery as well as "reality". Our friends have traveled diverse, multi-directional paths seeking that special goal, whether it be a higher degree, a fulfilling job, rest and relaxation, or even a mate. Margaret Andrews snagged Gary Piacentini for an August 2nd wedding. Margaret hopes to be teaching in the Richmond area while Gary finishes up his law degree at T.C. Williams. Her maid of honor, Leslie Zehmer (whose engagement ring was served to her in an ice cube) is also planning an August wedding. Another one taking a trip to the altar in August was Bonnie Berry of Richmond.

UVA law school awaits Karen Sobeiski this fall while Robin Turner plugs away there towards her MD. MWC Graduation 1980 proved to be a mini-reunion where I saw Windsor Barlow who is using her English major to "fly the friendly skies" of United Airlines as a flight attendent. While cavorting around Richmond, I occasionally run into Leslie Mayer and her wild nursing colleagues; she will be staying in Richmond this summer to work at MCV until nursing school resumes in the fall. Sue Moore has taken a step up from her job as a cartographer into the graphics department of the same company.

Judy Kemp will be undertaking a new teaching job in Richmond, as well as a marriage planned for October. Wakefield, Virginia, came to life for Margaret Andrews' wedding on August 2nd to Gary Piacentini, a grad of UVA currently in law school. Janice Guidri ('78), and I got to back Margaret up in what turned out to be a beautiful event.

News from New Guinea! This from our seafaring colleague Betsy Bowen: "Oh New Guinea! Oh to turn native again! To turn back to those primordial roots of mine. Mighty cosmos, thou hast humbled me." Betsy is nine months away from returning after her 18-month journey around the world on the Brigantine Romance. We landlubbers will welcome her back with open arms!

Bayou inhabitor Moira Carr was in Virginia briefly for a wedding; she has adjusted to the New Orleans life well.

Radio-land has finally opened its door to me here in Warrenton, Virginia, where I do everything from spinning records, splicing tape, writing copy, selling radio time, to fending off horse flies. Now that's using my college degree!

That news for now, Cyn.

On May 17, Barb Digiacomo and Michael Nawrocki were married in Cinaminson, N.J. Besides myself, MWC guests included Susan Peters, Ruth Ghormley, and Anita Churney Keeler. Barb and Michael recently purchased their first home near Philadelphia.

Weddings were being planned for Evelyn Watts, now employed as a purchasing agent for U.S. Department of Commerce, and David Way, USMC, on June 14; and Susan Tart, who is a clinical technologist for a medical lab in N.J., an October wedding to David Telesco. Susan and David will reside in Connecticut.

Suzy Ward is living in Chesapeake, Va. and teaching private piano, in addition to being the organist for a local church. Sharon Whitman is employed as a secretary for the National Science Foundation in Wash., D.C. Now in the Transportation Planning Division of the Va. Department of Highways and Transportation is Margaret Watson, who is living in Highland Springs, Va.

Joelle Williams and Janet Woodward Pittman are two of many who are pursuing teaching careers. Joelle is a first grade teacher in Spotsylvania County, while Janet is teaching life science in a Chesterfield County middle school.

Others of us have opted for graduate school, as has Donna West, who is now teaching biology in Exmore, Va., but who will begin medical school in Richmond this fall. Mitzi Turner is a studious law student at UVa., where Anne Weakley is also pursuing an advanced degree.

Vicki Valz ('79) is now co-owner of a riding school (horses) in Virginia. Shelly Westebbe ('79) is an assistant in communications with the Chemical Trade Association in Washington, D.C. Felice Wahlberg ('79) is working as a teacher's aide in Ft. Knox, Ky.

Shelley Roberts is presently working at Yale Medical School as a research assistant in their

Hi fellow classmates. I hope everyone had an enjoyable summer. I'm still working for Mosby/Times Mirror and loving every minute. In June I attended a management class in St. Louis, Mo. at our home office. In August, I will be traveling to Avalon, N.J. for a meeting with the rest of my district before I continue my sweep through Va. and W. Va. Thanks to the people who responded to my newsletter. I still haven't heard from a few and would really love to!

Jane H. Hall celebrated her fifth year of marriage in July. She has a son, Wayne, age 3½ who was born just after her last exam before Christmas break in '76! Jane was a geography major and currently teaches kindergarten in Stafford County at Grafton Village Elementary School.

Vicki Harris, has helped to revise an edition of a French-English dictionary and tried her hand at catering for a restaurant near her hometown of Hanover, Pa. Her odd jobs finally gave her the money she needed to make a backpacking trip to Europe for two months.

Sally Hart is continuing her graduate studies at the U of Tenn in geography. For the summer, Sally lived in Williamsburg where she was an intern for the James City County Planning Dept.

Beth Holliman has remained in a position with the Computer Services Division of the Republican National Committee. She writes that she travels all over the country and had the opportunity to attend the National Convention in Detroit which she really enjoyed. Naturally the fall election is keeping her very busy.

Maggie Hoy became Mrs. Richard Daniel Ross, Jr. on July 12. Suzy Ward was her maid of honor. Rick and Maggie bought a house in Fredericksburg and Maggie will continue to teach first grade for Spotsylvania County Schools.—Bonnie

80

Mrs. Gail A. Melanson Carr, 13410 Crispin Way, Rockville, Md. 20853 (F-J)

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Haslett Fechteler, 502 Sage Court, Jacksonville, N.C. 28540 (A-E)

Ms. Valerie A. Parks, 2414 Drexel St., Vienna, Va. 22180 (K-O)

Miss Barbara Cooke Pittman, 2244 Brandywine Drive, Charlottesville, Va. 22901 (P-S)

Miss Martha E. Williams, 31175 Sleepy Hollow, Birmingham, Mi. 48010 (T-Z)

Robin Lynn Viar became Mrs. Donald Bradford Massie on June 7th. Carmela Sperlazza married Philip L. Southers on June 28th. Carmela is a librarian in Charlottesville where Phil is attending the law school at UVa. Caroline Anne Marsilio married C. Lee Burton on August 2nd. Lee is a 1980 grad of George Mason. Lorraine Kay Duperock and Donald Eugene Ausin Jr. were married last May. Lorraine is working at Sears, Roebuck & Co. in Fredericksburg. Jennifer Kilgour Pickett married Edward John Nix last May in an outdoor ceremony on Catoctin Mountain. They are living in Brooklyn, N.Y. Joan Spann married David Arthur Evensen, Lt., USN. They are living in San Diego, Ca where Dave is stationed. Lou Ann Register married Michael Downs on May 31 in Vienna, Va. Betsy Haslett became Mrs. Joseph S. Fechteler, Jr. Lt., USMC and is now living in Jacksonville, N.C.

Lisa Nichols is working in the D.C. office of Senator Hiakawa. Amanda Parker and Suzanne Williams are sharing an apartment and are both working in D.C. Kathleen Rowe has been accepted into the MA program in psychology at N.Y.U. Susan Dahl Jansen is expecting her first child in November. Mary Beth Dowell spent several weeks in London, England following graduation in May. She is now engaged to Monty and they plan a spring wedding.

"FRAMAR GOES TO A WEDDING"

A large contingent of Framar took the Washington area by surprise the weekend of May 30th. The cause for congregation and celebration was Gail Melanson's marriage to Mitchell Carr. In attendance at the Friday night wedding were Nancy LaClair, Kimm Harty, Baby Hulett, Kathy Jones, Vicky Nichols, Linda Howell, Anne Sauder and Dear Abby. Kit Givens arrived later that night in time for a gourmet dinner and marathon game of Heart's. Appearing at the wedding on Saturday were Linda Jones and Dottie Traweek. Gail's bouquet was caught by Kimm Harty. Framar also attended the wedding of Nancy LaClair and Larry Stultz in Sarasota, Fla., on June 28th. The visiting group included Amy Hauck, Kit Given, Linda Howell, Gail Melanson Carr, Vicky Nichols, Anne Sauder, and Cheryl McKay. The wedding was preceeded by a couple of days of basking in the sun and general vacationing. The LaClairs treated the group to a deluxe version of "Food for Framar" Friday night for dinner. When asked to describe her feeling, the bride replied "Everything is really toots!"

John F. Pinckney just returned from a Campus Christian Ministries trip to Vienna, Austria. The group helped to paint the windows of a retreat in Vienna. They made side trips to Budapest, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. John is engaged to Lisa Haynie '82.

Viola Wilkerson made a trip to Atlanta, Ga., as a gift for her graduation from MWC. Viola is the senior citizen who returned to school after retirement for intellectual stimulation. She is hoping to register this fall for the new MLS program.

Joanne Whelan is in Europe until September. She spent her summer waitressing but will be attending U of Cincinnati in the fall getting her MS in cosmetic chemistry. Lisa Waller, plans to attend graduate school in 1981. Meanwhile, she is filling some prerequisites at Lynchburg College.

After weeks of searching, Pat Weedon is happily employed with Advanced Technology, Inc. It is a consulting firm in McLean. Pam Troutman is employed with the Defense Mapping Agency as a cartographer. She is awaiting her first permanent position and may attend graduate school part-time in the fall at George Mason.

Char Young is vacationing in California for two weeks. She and Alison Roedy drove out west together and met Carol Mullins in Nebraska, where Alison will attend graduate school. Carol will attend Penn State in the fall. Kendie Thomas works at Sperry-Univac Dahlgren Operations along with Sandy Slusher and Janet McConnell.

As for me—I was to leave July 27th for a month in Europe. When I return I will probably work in Washington D.C. for the Department of the Army. That's all for now—keep in touch. Martha Everything in Northern Virginia is just fine. After 4 years of managing pools, I finally got a real job. I started August 4 with the Association of Naval Aviation, Inc., a Congressional lobby organization that lobbies Congress for increased expenditures in naval aviation. Come September I'll be moving into an apartment with Martha Williams '80 and ex-MWCer Nancy Smith.

Lisa Langenbach writes that she received a teaching assistantship at Purdue University. She'll pursue a master's in American Studies. Linda Lowman has moved from New York to Maryland. She's employed by Fairchild Republics, a subsidiary of Republic Industries.

Meg Matthews is in the Paralegal Program at the University of Richmond. That's all from me this time. All you K-O's let me know what you're doing. Until next time Bye. . . Val

Deceased:

Annie Thomas Rippon Parks '13
Sarah Gouldman McAlister '15
Virginia Bolen '15
Ada Whitmire Grant '22
Kathryn Hastings Lashley '27
Dorothy Hamner '28
Bettie Bilingsley Tillar '29
Eunice Katherine Maddox '32
Mary Lineberry Hammond '38
Ellen M. Savage '46
Joyce Holloway Piper '49
Alice Louise Deens '50

Memoriam:

Helen Van Denberg Hall '29 lost her husband in March, 1980.

Margaret Lambert Reardon '35 lost her mother in June, 1980.

Genevieve Tyson Davis '37 lost her husband in 1979.

Ann Lipscomb Kline '37 lost her husband in November 1979.

Bernice Whipple Camp '39 lost her husband.

Carolyn Pittman Day '43 lost her son last spring.

Jo Holding Ricks '43 lost her husband in February 1979.

Betty Rogers Zylewitz '43 lost her husband last September.

Harriet Tyler Miller '43 lost her son in February.

Martha Carr Huddleston '50 lost her father in April.

Nan Taylor Stockam '50 lost her mother.

Shirley King Buchanan '53 lost her father in May.

Adele Crise Thomas '53 lost her son, Scott.

Janet Bewley Hammond '59 lost her husband, Frank.

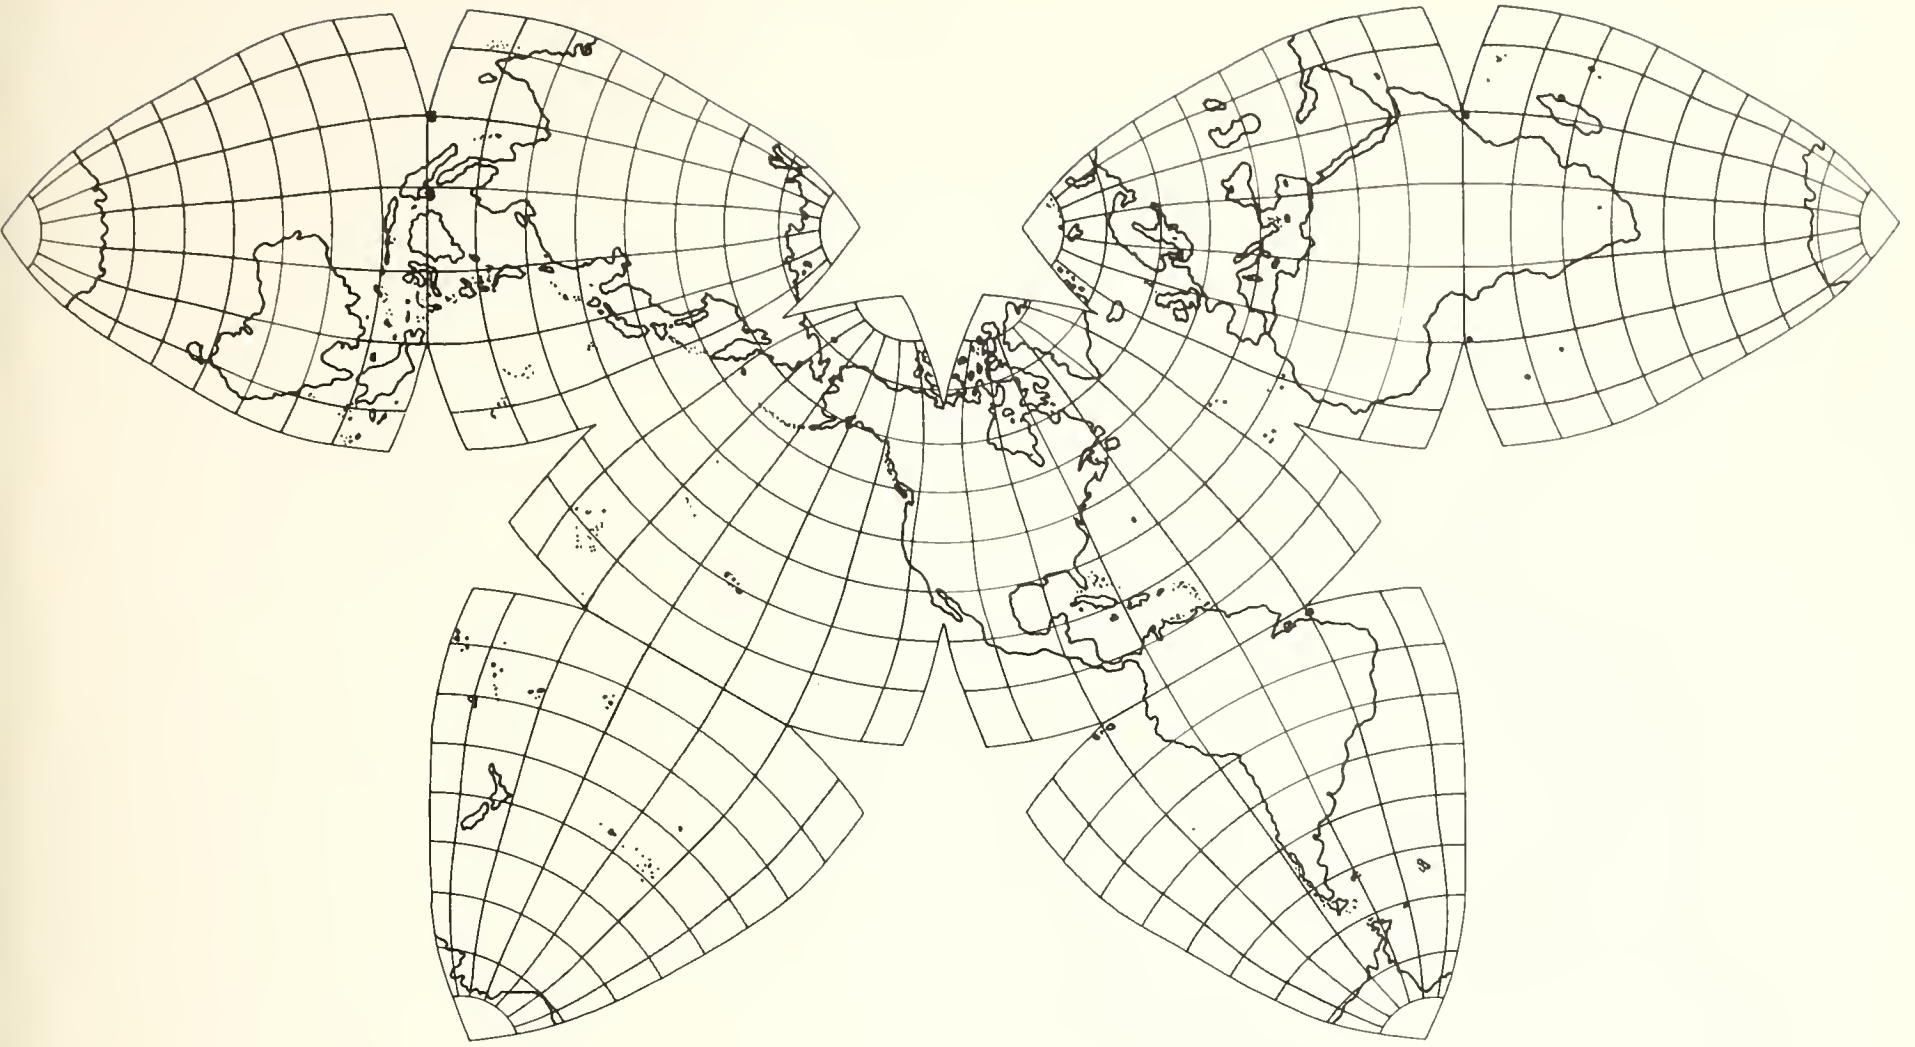
Sandra Winn Furna '65 lost her father.

Edna Priscilla Everton Jenkins '42, Nina Ruth Everton Seager '38, and Irma Rose Everton '44 sisters who lost their father.

Do You Recall That Wonderful Year?

Can you help the Alumni Association recall some lost years? The Alumni Office maintains a library of yearbooks to use as reference sources. If you have Battlefields from any of the years listed below that could be added to our files, your contribution would be deeply appreciated.

1911, 1912, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922, 1926, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936.



Where in the World Would You Like to Travel?

The Alumni Association of Mary Washington College has planned four fabulous trips for alumni and guests of MWC. Because the cost of travel to European ports of call has risen so drastically, trips closer to home have been planned. Mark your calendars now; brochures are in the mail.

Caribbean Fly/Cruise (Antigua, Barbados, St. Thomas, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Venezuela)	February 16-23, 1981	$949 includes everything
Jamaica	March 17-24, 1981	$573.85
Hawaii	April 28-May 8, 1981	$899 plus 15%
Reno/San Francisco	Summer of 1981	$599 plus 15%
China Manila Peking Nanjing Suzhou Shanghai Hangzhou Hong Kong	October 19-November 5, 1981	$3,195 (includes all meals in China)

Who is Mary Washington?

PROFILE

General

Type: Four-year, state-supported, coeducational, liberal arts and sciences, founded 1908.

Location: Fredericksburg, Virginia, a community of 17,000, 50 miles from Washington, D.C. and Richmond; 70 miles from Charlottesville.

Students: 2,467, from 38 states and 10 foreign countries.

Campus: 275-acres.

Accreditation: Southern Association of Colleges and Schools

Policy: Mary Washington College does not discriminate in recruiting, admitting, or enrolling students on the basis of race, color, religion, physical disability, national origin, political affiliation, marital status, sex or age.

Academic

Philosophy: Liberal arts and sciences, with career-directed counseling and internship program.

Faculty: 125 full-time, of whom 80 per cent have earned doctorate or other terminal degrees. Impressive range of professional activities and recognition.

Library: 250,000 volumes, 1,300 periodicals; the largest purely undergraduate library in the state of Virginia.

Degree Programs: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology, Bachelor of Liberal Studies.

Special Programs: Pre-law, pre-dental, pre-medical, pre-vet, health sciences, cartography, communications, and teacher certification (K-12). Non-traditional degree program and individually designed special majors have permitted concentration in such areas as anthropology, ecology, linguistics, and modern European studies.

Majors:

American studies
art history
studio art biology
business administration chemistry
classical civilization classics (Latin) computer and information science dance
dramatic arts economics
English
environmental earth sciences
French
general liberal arts and sciences geography
geology
German historic preservation history
international affairs mathematics
medical technology
music
performing arts philosophy
physics
political science psychology
public administration religion
Russian studies
sociology
Spanish
speech pathology and audiology

Internships: Full- or part-time; up to 12 hours credit per semester.

Admissions

Selectivity: Average student accepted is in college preparatory program and in top third of high school class with SAT scores totalling 1,000.

Suggested Filing Dates: Early decision, November 1; Regular admission, March 1

Cost: 1980-81
Virginian, dormitory — $2,825 per year
Non-Virginian dormitory — $3,670 per year

Telephone: (703) 899-4681

Mary Washington College

Fredericksburg
Virginia
22401